What Nationalism needs...

What Nationalism needs... Is a fully functional Nation

(*the 'Nationalism' under discussion is largely but not entirely an Online and very low brow live action cos playing affair in the English Speaking West. However like all ideas it has the potential to burst forth into action, if the stumbling blocks are removed.)

For those new to this, or who may have come here by other avenues than the online nationalist route, some background might be necessary.

Nationalism as an organized social, political and economic force in the West has on the one hand failed since WWII and been driven to ground, and on the other reveled in that failure to the point of making it a mark of distinction.

This is the last 70 years encapsulated into a simple sentence.

The repeated failure has built up a certain image over the last few decades of failures.

Just No

This image for now generates more alienation and failure which generates more cult like behaviors, which feeds into a negative cycle of isolation, resentment and other bitter feelings to and from the common people who are our nation.

This useless image makes success harder but all the more deserved when it comes our way. Failure makes success all that much more sweet.

This is pathetic.
This image is more useful to the ruling caste than the Nation – Thus the online slash neo-nazi-skin nationalist movement in simple terms serves no existing nation but is an online fantasy with live action cos play for low IQ baboons, as a bonus.

The failed movement retreats onto the net, and to the fringes of society acting in separation from the wider society, but has done little to dispel and rather seems to be bent upon helping to generate and promote this dispiriting image of itself.

An image that cuts them off and marks them apart to zero gain for either themselves or the wider society.

An image that many among its ranks cannot part with because to be part of something even a failure, is better than being, nothing among the atomized masses of nobodies. We understand this need that the alienating atomization of the modern world creates – its cold numerical materialist views and ways, its grinding loneliness – for its outcasts to feel the human need to belong, truly we do.

We fully empathize with the need to have something, anything which is ours and ours alone, no doubt about it. T'is but human to desire a home, that 'feels' right to oneself.

And unfortunately some poor souls have made a home in the mire thinking it a permanent settlement rather than an encampment along the way to successful action in the nationalist future.

Sub-optimal Results in Action.

This is the result of demoralization and lack of effective leadership which results in their being willing to take sub-optimal results since something is again better than nothing.

We grasp this fully. We fully grasp why now, after all these rebuffs and setbacks, now that the time is upon Nationalism to shine forth, and the people are fully in reaction against modernity and PC liberalism, that the remnants of Nationalism are in disbelief. We grasp why they cling to what they know, failure though it might be, rather than lose all in what they see as a vain gamble that might not pay out as so many before have busted.

There there it gets better
We do truly empathize with those that will least well receive this message; but empathize, as we may, it is time to leave the burnt out hulk of the past and go on to new things.

The past failures were just the preparation for success.

The testing ground that has ensured that we are all ready and able to do our duty.

However we also can rise above this purely personal level and see it at the higher levels where things are often very much not as they appear until they suddenly seem to come upon us as a presented event we must acknowledge.

The very success of the systems inhuman wants and desires ensures that our very much human reaction to this inhumanity will find fertile ground, among those who desire something more out of life. The success is being handed to us by the system, if we can but clear our mind. If we can but act our proper parts in the body politic each and every one. If we can do our parts, materially the time for success is upon us, as the system has turned upon all and is starting to chew at itself. Here are only the dead tending to the dead, let us leave this for the Land of Life.

Fast hard and deep.
Along the path to this land, Truths must be told that will be very close upon cruelty for there is no nice way to strike with the hot iron. It is a kindness to strike deep, press hard and to hold the hot iron fast until the wound is seared. For then it only need be done once. A good doctor bleeds off the septic rot so that healthy growth may take its place. Health pushes out sickness with great travail.

There will be Great Pain – Time to be reborn. Birth implies Pain.

If Nationalism is to grow from its own ashes and succeed it must grow stronger from its past failures, by learning new paradigm shifting lessons from those failures. It must then break forcefully from its old image.

Better Image.

Thus a wiser Nationalism will be leaving behind the failure of the past, and the isolation this has engendered. A new nationalism will be born among the rubble that will be able to directly approach the man and woman on the street at a person to person level.

Real Strength is NOT in mantras, memes or other mamba but in MEN made of living FLESH, who act in accordance with common ends.

This one truth taken as a dictum, an over arching order would of and in itself make a world of difference to the fate of the nationalism movement among the Anglo Peoples.

Now the Iron:

Up to this point, Modern Anglo Nationalism, has been in all honesty and with few notable exceptions largely an elitist dress up club.

Vile Image.

A failure through and through. This is just factual reality. Since Mosley it has stagnated.

Rather than act its correct part as an organized mass movement functionally based upon the day to day lives of the people, it has isolated itself into a cult like atmosphere that degrades the dignity of the commons and exalts the cult above all else.

Rather than nominally defending the normative customs of the white western peoples, it has been at odds with them as well as the current ruling caste, but has served no concrete purpose except as a model of what is not to be repeated. (We know as to our shame we were part of the very 'larpers' we correct today.)

It has projected by and large an image of anger and hatred and not one of Care and Love. The anger has a solid factual basis in truth but the mindless aggression behind much of the delivery turns many otherwise interested people away.

Put on some clothes dude.
This works long term to ensure that they cling to the very system which nationalist's rightly see as their long term mutual enemy.

Right or wrong this image has soured the milk between them and the normal person.

This has resulted in a dual rejection of the People by the Nationalists and the Nationalist by the People which has resulted in a sterile, meaningless Nationalism by and large – the exceptions hammer home the rule – AND has allowed for our People to be the play things of the Plutocratic

Oligarchic Elite who rule the Western Nations with a Golden Chain.

This status quo is not acceptable as it has allowed both the Nation and the Nationalists to stagnate in the mire having at each other to the advantage of the PC Elite, the traitor outer party and their diverse hordes of muscle. The Nation left to the party system fraud and nationalism existing in an insular realm among a certain subculture, around the fringes of the 'Right Party' but not part of the party, powerless to shape events for the National Good.

Both at the mercy of the media, and more or less neutered to the ends of the system as it exists, not united to create the system that ought to exist. Yes the rot has run deep so the iron must strike hard.

Oh but this is just the beginning of enlightenment.

Accept this as truth: There is a great divide between Nationalists and The Nation, for many reasons, tragically this is a truth. This has lead Nationalists in the main to a rejection of the actual nation of living people whose living being is the body inside which nationalism flourishes. Instead there is a tendency to idolize the non-existent, while judging the actual on the basis of the counter-factual.

This allows the system to sell a false ideal of nationalism to the masses and ensures mutual alienation by the people and their true leaders, brothers and kinsmen.

This is the next to final act in the tragedy-comedy which is current elitist nationalism come to devour itself fully from the tail. Being part of the liberal system it must share in the common fate of whole rotten edifice.

All this is surely paved with good intentions, but not grounded in a proper understanding of common people's day to day lives, nor does it application show any understanding of their needs, wants or concerns. This due to the alienating effect of the cult like atmosphere which on line nationalism breeds among its votives with few exceptions.

These well meaning folk then replace the living warm embrace of the nation by embracing cold dead fetishized symbols and other far-fetched beliefs such that names are become magical talismans which bring enemies low. It is the desperate attempt of the disenfranchised to garner power in a last ditch attempt to shape events to their advantage. They reject numbers as a basis for strength and thus are left with little but will and hope, alas this is not a Disney movie.

They are tragic in that they have true and useful insights into the truth but no means to effect them. Sadly, blindly they are leading the blind to mutual doom.

No more foolishness.

This state of affairs invites destruction for all without regard.

The actual people are being replaced, meanwhile as all this goes on apace. They are being thumbed down and pushed out, their ways being degraded before the onslaught of modernity, right before the eyes of all and sundry. Tragedy.

The lack of effective opposition to our displacement, invites destruction upon us all to a common doom. The lack of organized concerted leadership is deadly because it persuades people, who have some insights but no clear understanding of how to apply them, to act foolishly with what little time we have left.

Time we don't have on the Clock.

They, with the best of intentions are burning what time we have left on the Western Candle, upon futile and worthless gestures that do nothing to organize our people for our own stark cold best interests.

Better than

Nothing.

Commanding the tides to stop would surely be a more productive use of time. At least that would get them out into the world of manifest activity.

Taken as a whole this dress up 'movement', so called, has been an utter failure, thus any newly styled, people principled mass movement incarnation of Nationalism, cannot be any less successful.

The insular isolated elitist nationalist movement has been a failure, because it has no emotional appeal, to the masses of the nation, while also having no means to give them HOPE for better days ahead. The elitist club emphasizes events in history and other arcana that have no day to day impact on actual people's lives. These do not motivate the masses of the people.

Thus actual people have no incentive to attached to them. Since nothing the elitist club nationalism proposes seemingly has any connection to their lives, they see no reason to connect to the club – and this then reinforces itself; time and time again.

That is its core and singular reason for failure. Give Nothing; Get Nothing.

Disdain for the People results in normal people rejecting them.

Simple really, and so easily fixed.

Time for Nationalism to come on down off the mountain to the People.

That would be the solution that presents itself to my mind. Leave the nets. And promote a narrative that attracts good working middle class folks who will build success upon success, and strength upon strength.

The Substance is that:

People ARE finally coming to the ideals which True nationalism represents. PC has finally threaten their homes, and they are resisting. The majority is threatened at a basic level, they have woken to find they are surrounded in their homes and have lagered up the wagons.

That is the objective reality of the 'populist' uprising among the people which will grow into full blown ethnic-nationalism if it is nurtured and fed by good and noble wardens.

No cheers or pats among the 'movement' please, since this has nothing to do with the 'movement'. It is simply the nature of PC playing out, the logic of Mass Immigration, job loss, and other factors, which are causing the nationalist uprising amongst common people. And which is forcing identity and the reality of race to the fore of the public mass mind.

Return to Sender.
But be that as it may: The following conclusion cannot be denied--

The horrible skinhead neo NAZI image of nationalism, has functioned to allow the media for a very long time to steer common people away from white identity politics.

It has acted as a system created and system promoted bogey man, wherein people have based their version of nationalism upon hatred of outsiders rather than love of insiders.

Most normal, working and middle class family oriented people, that is most people, have no interest in being associated with the image which the movement has allowed, nay assisted, the media in creating of itself. The neo NAZI skinhead image OR a sheet wearing fool, take your pick either is an image sure to cause failure. (If you associate with those that embrace this image; you embrace this image.)

Thus any 'movement' so called that embraces any of this symbolism of failure is an impediment. The stark cold truth is that it would be better if folks could start from nothing rather than build upon the unsound footings that the foolish, persons who act out this image, have created.

These persons who help to build and maintain this false image of Nationalism are the exact persons who have the least knowledge, about the principles upon which nationalism in real life was based in those times and places it has been embraced. They are isolated from truth in all ways even historically by their movement bubble.

The concepts and fixations pushed by most of the net-nationalism people, have as much relation to real nationalism as a cargo cult has to real religion.

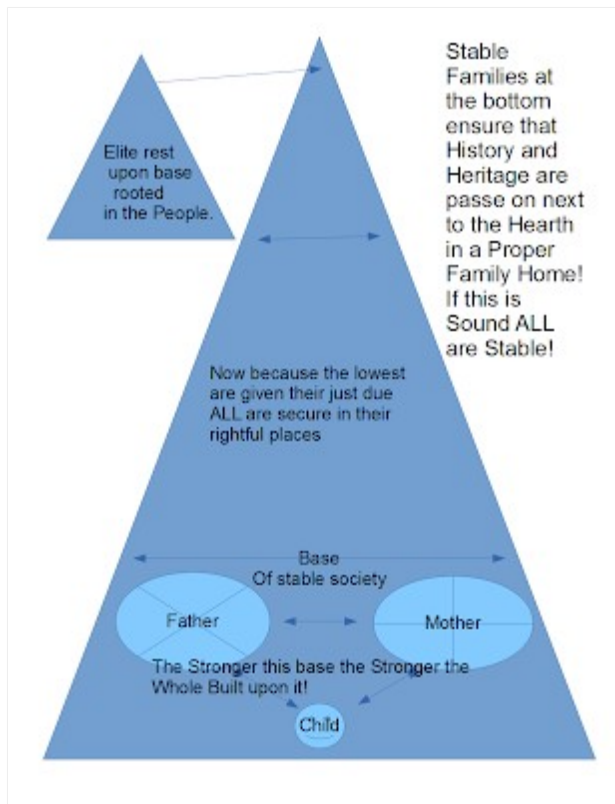

This 'image'; this edifice, must be burnt to the ground and razed. It must be reduced to ash and char: Let it be the bed from which new things grow.

The obvious deduction which comes to our mind is that a better more viable, community, and family based form of nationalism must arise from the ash of the old image as the new face of nationalism. It must arise with a purpose and a will to work towards concrete doable goals that aggregate into the construction of the inner and outer world anew.

Nationalism must undergo a spiritual trial of fire. A great internal ordering wherein the useless will be burned away, and the useful will be purged and forge hardened. Worked with the intent that it may be a useful tool, a viable instrument for the protection of our values, our traditions, our hearths, our homes, our families, our history, our common values, and our communities. Above all these things, this new nationalism must be a viable vehicle for the protection and sustainment of our future Children who are the reason for all this concerted action.

Everything that is suggested here, is based around the simple concept that to have as many healthy children in stable homes where they are taught good values and learn to be proper members of the society in which they are born, is a good unto itself. The best of goods which all the others goods in society tend to reinforce.

For this to be so, the man and woman family unit, must be taken from the realm of mere contracts, and return back to the realm of sacred values. Homes must be castles. Heritage the rock upon which our people founded.

Part of these values include the sublimely profound yet simple idea that the man and woman both have separate but necessary functions to the maintenance of the home, such that at home can fulfill its function for the children.

As a continuance of this theme, it follows from observation, that having the mother in the home, ensures better behaved children, while having a father in the home who is able to support all with his labors, provides for better materially equipped family. Such that better behaved and adjusted children can then go on to found homes and families of their own in turn, generation upon generation.

The reason for this is that everyone does what nature has specialize them for the better good of all. Which is exactly as God has programmed nature to reward best.

Putting these ideals into power is not impossible, though it will be hard, and though it will require struggle, because these things which we have suggested are in line with nature's realities, will not have to fight the tide. Rather because we will be working with not against nature we will have a 'synergy' multiplying our efforts.

Because this will be based upon the natural love care and affection which people have for their family children friends neighbors relatives and by extension all of those who have a common bond to them, this entire program will again come to find its own level based on these human to human relationships which form its base.

What we propose as you can see is a radical departure from current failure.

A hard and abrupt shift in the emphasis of all our goals, ideals and actions, to actual people, places, and things which real people, really care about, and which they will really, rally around, to protect, if they are led by people of goodwill who have the Peoples' interests at heart.

We propose that the first ailment which nationalism needs to remedy, is its own lack of love, for the common people of the nation they propose to lead. We propose all of nationalism's maladies could be fixed by the simple expedient of promoting people, places, and things that are of interest and concern to the common majority white western man woman child and family.

We propose, to make Nationalism represent love for family, for home, for hearth, for heritage, and for all of those wholesome things which no decent person can deny to another. In the end We shall make this transformation WITH or WITHOUT the netzi-central casting crew, and will continue this struggle generationally if need be using the ideas presented in 'The Organic Theory of Society' which can be downloaded as a PDF here: Download Link

The goal is in essence to put the 'burden of hate' upon the PC leftist liberal establishment rather than carry their water for them. And then slowly build up our own money, commercial, industrial, political, and social powers, and groupings that are independent of their central authority. DEFY them by making them redundant, is the essence of the idea.

This will require the strength of character to separate one self from the infiltrators and actors in bad faith whom will try to put egg on the face Of True Nationalism.

This will require that True Nationalists, take the goodwill they have to towards their people, and harness that to the cart of their new love, concern, caring based script, that will in the first instance drive out the false actors, and in the second act to differentiate true nationalist from them in their ranks.

If these new forces were wise they would allow the old clowns to take all the backhand from the system while garnering all the popularity among the masses... let that which is useless sink and be foundations stones for what will take the day. These foundations will have to be build as they do not currently exist, and this is the challenge.

The idea is to have nationalist here, there, everywhere talking, calmly like adults, about clean streets, good school stable safe neighborhoods, and historical cultural heritage. About how the two party money based system is an economic and political failure. They will thereby bring on large segments of the middle and working class families, and single mothers with vulnerable children to our side. Since we will be their voice.

This will allow us to be reborn with the image of a wholesome, handsome, clean, nice, married couple, with several children, whom are raised in a nice clean neighborhood, that operates as a community.

The goal is to have true nationalists setting forth a positive vision of the future based on solidly established foundations in the now. It must appeal to the Healthy Life based instincts of the Loyal Members of the Folk.

Thus true nationalism must be about our peoples' future existence, and nothing else.

Our feeling is that this will set a tone such that others will come into tune with us willingly, and come to see the inevitable victory of our vision and the simplistic wisdom of our simple message predicated primarily upon our survival, socially, politically economically, culturally, and racially.

We feel that, though this is a poor start, because it is a true start, based on solid premises, it is a better start than the pretend on line nationalism up to this point.

Thank you ladies and gentlemen. Have a nice Day each and every one of you.

Let us talk ...

Let Us talk about tending to the living.

Yes indeed let us talk.

Let's have a talk about other possibilities. Let's have a talk about better things. Let us talk about preservation, restoration and rebuilding.

Let us talk about chastity, virtue, glory and renown, as high ideals; of Honesty, duty, loyalty and courageous action willingly undertook as the means to great ends. Let us talk of common action to the common good as the best of ends.

Let us talk about the clean, orderly future that awaits us after all this vigorous action. The happy and strong people of the world whom we should wish to emulate, past, present and future.

Let us talk with pride of the beauty and light that our culture has and shall again project onto this dark world in our valiant effort to push back the vile world of savagery.

Let us talk about tomorrow rather than yesterday or even today, ever forward, ever onward towards victory.

Let us look to the future that awaits us at the end of a glorious period of struggle, contest and bitterly resisted intrusion, upon our culture sphere and living space by the dark hordes of the Earth.

Let us set aside thoughts of mass confrontation and talk about more mundane daily routine things.

Let us talk about emulating the good in others and negating the bad in ourselves thereby.

Let us talk about a certain, for now to be unnamed, nation-state which is in the here and now based upon safe families, securely in their homes, happy around hearths, upholding their heritage in a tight knit community of like families.

Life building upon life; let us walk among these people mentally and talk about what we see.

The family is based upon a happy mother father bonding pair, which seem to make the basis for the well founded home and the tight knit community, in which life grows.

The mother-father-child quantum is the well, from which spring ,many similar persons into interlocked families which being bound together by blood and way of life grow, as if from a single fertilized egg, naturally into a unified and united people.

This people we are discussing, have a living community of activity in which there exists spiritually and mentally a conscious commonality of language, manners, and morality.

This people have a sense of a shared history going back to the first family all the way back into the mist of hoar haired time. An identity as old as the oldest rocks but reborn in the face of every lawful citizen's child who is raised into this sacred and hallowed tradition.

This people have a common cultural core that grows with them, and shapes while it is shaped by the living people themselves. A vital culture that exalts their values, mores and needs openly with satisfaction in itself.

The morals of the families and the whole people are based upon: honest dealing one to the other; frugality in use of material needs; dedication to ones family, kin, community and labors; and mutual respect all to all, each that gives respect is respected.

The culture of this people reflects and gives life to these high ideals. Affirming boldly and loudly the good and censoring the ill with no regard for moral quibbles. Society is only a large well behaved family writ large.

This people acting as an economic whole are the vital living nation. The nation of its own will protects the land of the whole, the livelihood of the family, and the life of each loyal citizen who does his duty to the nation. Each citizen as a sign of loyalty serves in the capacity he is able first his own family, then his local community and then the whole polity, in that order.

The Nation is wise enough to see that the citizen must have food, shelter and clothing for the family to whom he belongs, and that order requires they provide by their own labors.

Thus the nation ensures to each family as a unit the means to have a livelihood, such that they may labor to provide for the family home.

Since without this right no other right has any meaning at all. Freedom starts with a family home free from want and able to honorable provide for themselves in this people's estimation.

The final end of the nation is to ensure the people grow and produce enough material means to survive, and are over all vital and strong.

The nation is simply the household economy that keeps its own and cares for all its members writ large.

This people as a political whole are the state under which they live. The state is bound to the law. Seeks to keep order. And as far as humanly possible seeks to ensure to each the justice rightfully due to them.

The final end of the state is to ensure the people remain Sovereign over their own Land, and can keep their own laws and way of life. The state is simply the household as a political unit writ large.

The Nation-State is merely the combined Family Unit Writ large among these wise, virile, healthy and stable people.

This Nation-State has certain values upon which it is based and which act as its strong walls. These are Loyalty, Duty, Honor and Courage. These values apply to all; every citizen does their duty inside the family, community and commonality with honor and courage.

This acts as a mental/spiritual wall that keeps out enemies and allows for a united defense against the attacks of those enemies that do come to harm the common good.

It keeps them on a common page and gives them a common frame of reference from which to base judgments and to understand one to the other.

This people have a truly popular polity.

This popular polity has accepted the cold logic of the needs pyramid as their foundational social logic.

This is in short the reality that each citizen has material needs as regards food, clothing and shelter minimally, and thus that each must be allowed the right to labor to ensure these needs for society to be stable.

This popular polity has accepted and mastered class by cooperating the higher and lower to all's advantage. They have had the wisdom to see that nature has divided abilities and rewards but that it is best if all give a bit and work together for everyone. Thus class has given way to the common good.

This people live with the knowledge that politics, economics and society are tied together, with the family unit as the common source of origin, as the seed from which all the splendor of their existence springs.

This people have created all this by purposeful design as veritable modern Spartans they have by will set aside the hedonism of the current age for a true and faithful people's state in which home, commonality, hearth, culture, heritage, history, are the basis for well lived lives under their own order, law and sovereign will.

All this with the family units as the secure and safe nuclei that lay out the template for the rest of the construction around them. The seed that sprouts into the Nation-State tree when watered by tradition and cared for with loving devotion.

The act of saving and strengthening the family has brought this people around from being death based to being life affirming.

This people thus have order inside and keep chaos out and because of this cultural cell wall, they have a living community of common interests.

A community which has life beyond the mere material days of any one member. A community that acts to the common good.

This people because each is productively laborious have real happiness among common cheer. True freedom being the freedom to live generation upon generation in the same ancestral home, free from fees and fines; each living life to the fullest among kin, companions and a community that has regard for your person.

There is much among these free peoples to recommend themselves to us but I would like to draw attention to the following few:

1.) All money is based upon goods produced. They use their own labor as credit, and then pool and loan it out by means of credit unions. Usury is unknown among them.

2.) They have learned that working together inside the circle of order multiplies efforts for the common good. Thus they have worked to ensure that each loyal person gets their just recompense from an honest day of labor. They have done this by driving out the merchants and pricing the value of their exchanges themselves using cooperatives, small markets and the Just Price which is a fixed price.

3.) These wise people have seen that charity is a means to elevate their fallen brethren. They find this binds them family to family and person to person, as well as ensuring that each is able to be productive. The common good is best served when all are able to do good for the commons.

4.) These people's media is tasked with providing factual knowledge, and allowing real living citizens a platform from which to voice concerns and ideas. It has zero commercial function, and is purely a publicly owned utility.

5.) These wise people have an educational system that starts at home with letters, and numbers, goes on to all the core subjects needed to have well rounded academic minds, but it is much more than mere letters and numbers. It is the morals that children are taught in the home early. It is the examples of loyalty, duty, honor and courage they have presented before their eyes. And it is capped by a citizenship course that teaches the young how to be loyal dutiful honorable courageous citizens and honest, frugal, dedicated, respectful family and community members.

6.) This leads naturally to the people's political associations which act to give unity to the people at the same time as they allow for calmly contested considerations about what is the best means to the people's best ends. This contest brings out the ideas and the goods that come from party politics but has none of the negatives as there are no permanent factions, nor corrupt deals to be had. Over all the best ideas are found, tested and applied by means of these associations across this people's land. Because all free holders in good standing are allowed a say and included the negative feelings generated by party factionalism is overcome and the Common Good is sought as the Mutual Good.

This is a wise, strong and forward looking people who also have roots firmly in the past, but who above all live for the present days with their kin and kind here under the sun, seeking to prepare as best as possible for the glorious future that awaits them.

This is a people who wish to see their ancestors without shame, having keep their traditions faithfully and with all honor. Thus this people live life to the fullest as they are not afraid of dying seeing it as the final act in the drama called life.

Truly at this point there must be many who are asking, what people are these people? Where are they located? Well you see they are and they are not. They are not yet, but they are a possible future for Our Own People if we work hard and make the choices necessary to grasp this potential destiny.

There is much work to be done. Most of it inside our very souls. The group, the family, the community must become the central focus and the sterile individual devoid of dynamic existence must be left on the examining table of liberalism – a siren warning to all that try to dissect life.

Once this is done then the ideal of the family based nation-state must be sold to the masses.

They must see in this idea all the hopes, dreams and securities they have had shattered by the modern world order.

They must come to see in this idea the values they would have themselves reflect day to day.

They must see in this idea the safe, orderly and clean schools, playgrounds and communities that they yearn for in their heart of hearts.

They must see the existing system as thoroughly vile, degraded, and unworthy of fighting to preserve, and they must see the ideal as the spotless model from which to rebuild.

Then and only then will the masses have the moral courage necessary to let go of the old and to wisely make room for the new in their hearts, their lives and their material reality.

They will thus be willingly driven to destroy what is death affirming and to cling to what is life affirming. They will in fact demand that leaders act to fulfill this new found need once the need comes into its own. As a new baby this idea will demand attention.

This idea will be thought out in terms of Families, in Homes, around Hearths, passing on Heritages.

These families then form a people who live in several communities, which have commonality of language, manners and morals, a shared history, and cultural ties. These families and the people as a whole are honest, frugal, dedicated, and respectful, as primary cardinal virtues.

This people then form a nation which protects the Land, Livelihood, and Life of the People inside their circle of life. The people also from a state which protects against threats to the above using Law applied without partiality or mercy, Orderly punishments, and Justice equity given to all.

The Nation-state imbues loyalty, duty, honor and courage, as the Nation-State is not an abstract but the citizens families and friends, their very loved ones.

This idea is what Nationalism is all about and what we should be talking about IMHO. Popular National States with the Family Unit as the central nucleus is the Future of our Kind. Let us talk about that future. Let us promote it as light in the darkness as the rock amidst the storm. Let us do this for our peoples' best good. Please watch the following as well.

he thing about tar-babies is that they are a waste of time to be polite and kind to as well they usually act as a trap for those that have nothing good in mind for you, YT man!

Diversity and Tolerance are out to get you White Folks. Period. They are now in open revolt against Western Civilization using our own lands as the base from which to attack us!

It will use its media and academic power to denounce and belittle all that speak out against it and attempt to rally the people and give them hope in the face of the massive demoralization they have experienced.

The key is to be aware that PC and Multicult are on the alert and use tools like Casting Nazis on the Right as well as comic commies on the Left to keep everyone herded towards the PC center. It even fights these false fronts against each other at times.

But mainly they attach onto rational calm ideas and 'add onto' them until they become caricatures of the media 'evil nazi' story line we are all so thoroughly familiar with by this time.

Assert Whites' Right to separate, dissent or otherwise NOT be part of PC/Multicult and the 'nazis' on the netz will try to stick to one like stink on ... well you get the point, at the same time the crazies on the far left are encouraged to have a go at one. It can be quite an experience to be sure. But it can be weathered.

The key is of course HYGIENE – ideological and moral hygiene. Having a clear vision of what we stand for, why, and what we want allows us to keep ourselves fire-walled from such trash. It gives us the courage to reject false and useless 'allies' who are all indeed fair-weather and quite lazy 'friends' at any rate.

We have no screed with the net nazis because unlike those IDIOT clowns we love our own. Oh we are VERY critical of outsiders ... even cruel to them ... but only in so much as they are threats to OUR People, OUR Families, Our Homes, Hearths, Heritage, Communities, and History. Also you will notice We actually point out REAL WORLD events. Not conspiracy nonsense.

The net nazi clowns, on the other hand, even hate most WHITE FOLKS because they are vile people who live in a fantasy where they are some sort of ruling caste – it just is not so. They also have a pathological need to blame others rather than being men who accept responsibility.

Normal folks see this hate and weakness wrapped together and Folks hate them in return – like unto like. Normal Folks want Jobs, Homes, and to have their History respected as well as their posterity's future ensured.

Normal folks want answers to the basic questions:

Where do Nations come?

Who makes a nation? What is a nation? How to keep and restore a nation? Why Nations matter?

Who? A family makes a nation.

What? A nation is a family of families.

How? By acting like a proper family, and banding together for the common interest over selfish gain!

Why? Because we all have a family and we all need others to live a proper life.

Where and When? Here and Now.

The Modern World

The Modern world: Is based upon unsound notions about family, persons, society, values, notions which are untrue and destructive at the same time.

The fact is that not one of the major tenets of Liberalism or Political Correctness have any solid foundation in the nature of things.

Equality is a patent lie. Diversity is not a strength or blessing but a cancer and a curse. Tolerance is not the virtue of the strong but of the pathetic and weak.

Pluralism and individualism combined with hedonistic consumerism amount to anarchy under any other label.

And because the world view of the PC Liberals is based upon unsound and untenable notions the result has been to turn the entirety of society into an asylum ran by the inmates at large.

But the believers keep doubling down on their 'values' like junkies shooting smack. They will keep importing and supporting barbarism, keep demanding more 'tolerance', keep hammering away at the foundation of the Western Culture to the ruin of the West until the fires literally consume their own person. They delight in their own on coming doom as they doom the rest of us.

The secret is that the Liberal PC cult is a death cult – affirming all things that lead to death as 'expressions' and rejecting all healthy, normal, natural behaviors as 'oppressive'. It must logically lead to death as it exalts death above life.

The modern world is a dead, dull world of repeating sameness. There is no vitality. No originality. All is repeats of repeats upon remolds upon recasts. They have even polluted the theater to the point that 'action movies' have no human action in them at all – everything happening upon a green screen. In learning, and print all is shaped according to very PC specific codes. Every action is policed for signs of unapproved isms, phobias, or other deviations from the New Sodomite Normal. The most dedicated shock troops of PC self police through double think.

This auto-internal policing makes one stupid, vile, weak and servile.

It makes one stupid because PC is immune to logic.

It makes one vile because it makes one arrogant.

It makes one weak because it makes one's thoughts predictable.

The Modern World has nothing to offer – nothing of any lasting value.

The modern world is based upon individualism, hedonism, and consumerism. It is literally the antithesis of the values of the past which were communal, ethical and productive. The individual is the dissected and dead remains of the once living Western community. Hedonism is the rubble of the Church's ethics, and the ruin of our social trust based on the former moral order. And consumerism has reduced all things to were commodities and has taken all the pride out of producing products worthy of a man's name.

The Modern World has nothing to offer – nothing of any lasting value.

What is the Modern world?

An empty imitation of a proper functioning society and national polity.

It has replaced all the former truths of our people with communist and consumerist inspired lies which have been accepted as 'the new truth' ... there is NO such thing as new or old truths. Truth is ETERNAL or it is not the truth but merely a convince used as a means to an end. The Truth is that if one lives a life in accord with the Nature of Man in harmony with Creation, and the Creators dictum, one will live a life worthy of living.

Man attempts to take the ideal timeless pure absolute TRUTH his mind and soul perceive in moments of insight rational and otherwise and replicate what good truths he may among himself. This is our nature, our dilemma, able to see the best and yet never able to make this best thing a reality.

Now to be fair, no 'True' government will ever be possible among men, as we are not perfect beings, nor ideal thought experiments conducted in a vacuum. But men are capable of creating social, economic and political forms that more or less are true in the sense that they tend toward the final end of by increments making of man a better more cultured and socially acclimated being.

Many are presented with this simple humbling, Truth but few grasp it. Many will reject it outright, being greedy, selfish, destructive and atomized themselves they cannot see or will not accept that other things are possible.

These sorts are lost to us, and must be left in the land of the dead and dying, for they will not come out of the forsaken city of woe, to the land of the Living. They refuse to see, and thus are willfully blind, blindly leading others to their doom. They are the multitude of Sodom, who must serve their part so that the elect may know mercy and grace.

But for those that will have other ways, that would want and do wish for something else out of existence.

That something else is at this

A real legal lawful doable Plan to really be free of PC.

A plan that has an actual chance of success. It is logical, simple and based upon the Real Nature of Mankind, not upon rationalist notions about what ought to be. We have been taught that Nature is secondary but this is a lie. Nature is dominate over nurture though both play a role – that is just the empirical fact.

The information contained in the pdf simply requires that much of the lies taught to all of us be unlearned – Materialism, Hedonism, Atheism and Individualism primary among them. These are cancerous memes killing the People and their communities as they sedate their minds with false happiness.

For many the pdf will be harder than for others, as all of us have been taught a mountain of false ideological nonsense from birth about the nature of everything including nature itself. Many are deeply invested in those lies, and will go into the deep with the sinking ship of falsehoods rather than swim to new shores.

An open mind and the willingness to let go of this modern world order which is so void, so empty, so vacuous and stultifying.

A willingness to think of things from other angles and to 'shift' the frame of reference from the 'assumed' PC liberal materialist one under which most of us were brought up and which we, like fish in water, notice not at all.

Those of you that feel like rejects from modernity and who have NO love for the PC liberal world – This was all done for you. You personally. You as a whole. You. You, who are the living way to other assumptions behind social, economic, and political relations. You who will shape the future.

An Organic Living Society is a matter of Living People working in unity. It is no more impossible than any other idea is 'impossible' in fact because it accords with nature it is quite very possible indeed. Something much better than this tepid mess is possible.

The Eternally Empty Cup versus The Over Flowing Chalice?

Which would you choose?

People emptily pursue, their isolated, and limited lives.
Atomized, demoralized, paralyzed. Worked too hard for too little, and then spending what hard earned lucre they have upon base, empty, and emptying, things which simply do not satisfy, or fill the void.

The emptiness springs from the sensation that each has been taught from birth, that they need material things, and meaningless pleasures, which in fact bring them only the desire, to have more. Thus the more they have, the more they need, the more they want, in a never ending cycle.

This need has been conditioned to such an extent that people will trade, all the things worth having in the present and future for needless junk-goods and fad buys right now like dope fiends. They have been conditioned since birth to mindlessly spend until it is blood and tears, they are paying with, for their bobbles and trinkets. Hollowing out the substance to have the appearance.

Thus slowly but surely most people, and this consumer society as a whole, are being emptied of all things worth possessing, in exchange for useless junk which will never ever satisfy the people, at their most basic level. This leads to further attempts to find happiness by ever more absurd wastes of effort and time upon even more outlandish fadish nonsense that does not leave one feeling sated and full.

If we are to change this cycle of needful dependence upon junk, we must break this never ending repetition, by frankly telling them the hard truth about their plight, and thus, triggering such an empathetic emotional response that no amount of trinkets will paper over the true needs of those whom we reach.

We must boldly confront people's false belief, in their needless baseless needs which are purely mindless wants, and break their dependency, upon the false happiness, which the material trinkets bring if fleetingly by exposing them to other options, other ways and means.

We must also provide ways to potential new sources of happiness, well being, and contentment, which sources of joy will be filling rather than emptying, which will bring an expansion of the people's lives rather than a contraction, which will fulfill people's lives and build them up, rather than spoil and tear down lives.

We shall seek out and cultivate happiness inside the man, rather than from without his person.

These new happinesses will be internal ideals not external items, thus the people will be brought from living in a spiritual vacuum to a fulfilled life in which their internal status, will count higher with them, then the material goods, which will be seen merely as means to the ends of life. This is life affirming as opposed to the death affirming nature of the empty nothing world about us. This affirmation of life is possible if we those who oppose the empty promises of the death cult, work loyally towards control over the basic instruments of power.

The first center is in our own soul, then our homes, then our communities.

The communities in our Nation have been reduced to the level of flop-houses for the world, because our leaders, local and national, are Judas goats who have no loyalty to anything but the money which their hidden masters provide.

The community is the family home on a large scale: The home must be cleansed of these betrayers' stench. The community must once, and yet again, be a place of Life that promises something worth living for; it must again become a united whole based the on common good over selfish interests.

If this communal re-alignment of priorities toward life, is to become possible persons loyal to the ideals of life, must gain control over first and foremost the local educational system, then local print and broadcast media, and finally rise to hold economic, social and political sway in the local community as authority figures and leaders, both civic and economic, secular and spiritual. The common persons in these communities must be brought over by early indoctrination of proper values, steady persuasion in the justness of our cause, and the good positive examples of the new leadership, which will all impact positively upon their lives. Then the commons will after seeing the benefits of the Organic Society, willingly abandoned the false cult of materialism and with the fervor of new converts embrace the idealistic values of these leaders.

It is absolutely necessary that people who are loyal to the nation take local power in the community back from these traitors, systemically, silently, and with all dispatch. Then and only then will it be possible for the local means of communication, administration, and taxation to be available to those who are loyal to the nation, and to use these to shape events, to the advantage of our People first and foremost.

These local communities shall be the seed beds from which the nationalist future shall grow. From the bottom up this great rebirth of our nation grow, as a mighty tree.

Understand this: If this local counter-revolution against the PC world's degradation of all we hold dear, does not happen, then materialism's emptiness, will consume everything and all will be lost. Everything that we hold dear, everything that we value will be consumed as our people mindlessly use up the past to pay for a party, that is killing us, as surely as any executioner, and pay every increasing prices to have ever diminishing returns.

For PC is the fad of self-destruction, taken to a society wide level.

A narcissistically suicidal death pact, us to us, that we shall destroy us, in the name of us – Us being the Left Wing Fanatics, who are perfectly willing to sacrifice everything you have, to their false idols of equality, diversity and tolerance. Their weapons are 'white guilt', 'white privilege' and mass third world immigration which all amount to subversion coupled to an invasion.

Thus: It is critical that Loyal Son's of the Soil secure these local communities as economic, social and political units. The entire battle against PC, depends upon being able to provide for ourselves, as persons, families and communities so that we can wrestle PC to the ground and triumph.

Hear this and understand it: We the White Western Peoples are being systemically eliminated, from our own history, lands and more and more mentally, spiritually being castrated to serve as the whipping boys of PC's reformation, of the world as we know, and love it. We must refuse this fate, and resist this foul ending of our great civilization.

We have an absolute duty, and every just right to fight back against PC because it is anti-popular, anti-Nationalist, and anti-Life. It is simply put a death pact, which was forced upon us, which we want no part of and: We are not alone.

There are millions of us that simply have not yet had the courage to stand up publicly for their beliefs, but in their hearts they are with us.

They simply lack a frame work within which to build their ideals into useable tools with which to fight back against the PC media bias, and academic conformity to liberal/egalitarian values.

The material presented is an attempt to give just these folks a frame work upon which to base their thinking, and from which to formulate their thoughts written and spoken so as to provide a 'united front' for Populists, Conservatives, and Nationalists who dissent from PC and want off this train to the Liberal Land of the Dead.

There are quite a few seemingly novel ideas, but we assure you that 'Nothing is New Under the Sun' and we have merely found what was good, and woven it into a tapestry useful to our People's ends. The material is based around the English speaking world, from which liberalism sprang, and into which we were born. But the ideas can be applied to the entire West, from the Urals to Australia. Anywhere people are willing to work hard, this material can be used, to direct that work.

The material presented is based upon the concept that what is founded upon correct principles, grows naturally of its own accord in strength as what has a strong foundation can be built high with confidence.

Our solid foundation, for the nation, is a unique people, who originate in families.

These families, have a home, a hearth, and a heritage. It is these family homes, with the mother father bonding pair acting as the primary parts from which all else springs. Thus Our solid foundation is the man woman dichotomy, and the natural complimentary relationship between them. In this relationship is found life; outside of this is death. We firmly embrace Life for our People, and we just as firmly reject the death cult, that is liberal modernity slash political correctness.

The material presented in the essay is an outline of how we believe our people arrived here, and how we believe they can return to better Lives.

With that as a counterweight to the death cult that surrounds us, we present The Organic Theory of Society, which is a fully illustrated essay, again intended to fill in the past, sketch out the present, and present before the mind's eye a far better vision of the future. The future, not a but the future, worth working hard, and struggling to build. We embrace our history and our people. These are the path that leads unto life.

The Organic Society is life based and life affirming. It is everything this death based cult is not and can never be. Embrace Life.

Restoring Organic Wholeness to Our People

(An extended excerpt from the Organic Theory of Society – <https://drive.google.com/uc?export=download&id=0B3zfTMw10IXTVjlESk9hWTE2Snc> 193 page pdf clean link. A real legal lawful doable Plan to really be free of PC. A plan that has an actual chance of success.)

WHO, What and How can will and must restore Organic Wholeness to Our People:

For those looking for a hobby or play time activity: This is not for you.

This WILL NOT BE EASY. It will require a lot of give and take. A lot of compromise and flexibility on the part of all parties involved. But it can be done if the will, and want are there to make it happen. We wish to point out that taking success from the jaws of failure will take a LOT of work, since, the cause of those, that believe in Nationalists Organic Principles in North America and in the west more generally, is failing dismally. The failure is a product of clinging to ghosts of the past, and an improper understanding of the facts of today. This reality is coupled with outright pigheaded insistence that failure is success in an attempt to reframe reality by way of word play. Conservatives are powerless before the PC, while, populists and Nationalists are side lined by the established parties, media and academia not to mention the money elite who are all lined up against the People of the Nation.

This cannot be denied by any honest observer, in fact the serious failures of current Nationalist, Populist, Conservative thinking and action are the reason We have penned this tract in an attempt to give the National Minded Man something to anchor himself upon as, at present the center and right are in full retreat before PC's assaults across the entire West.

These too are hard facts.

Tradition is being routed. The family is in collapse. Order itself is coming undone.

And yet those that purport to be Nationalists, that is to believe in Organic Principles by and large cannot even have a conversation over fish and bread with the very nations they purport to lead, because they are despised by and despise their own historical nations and people!

It would be comic if the hour was not quite so late and the need not quite so pressing.

One of the main reasons among several for this epic failure is the arrogant highhanded attitude of the majority of far right 'movement' itself towards the common people. The majority of the 'old guard' among 'Wnist' and 'race realist' type movements simply have nothing to offer the common working and middle class person that is worth the sacrifice needed to gain those offerings. While the 'mainstream' GOP types are fully in the service of the same system flushing the Common Man's dreams down the sewer along with his standard of living, wages and future. What dissent there is the 'far right' provides.

The (vast majority of the partisans of the 'far right') movement openly, call the common people, sheep, slaves and serfs on the one hand, but on the other castigates them for not loving and following “the movement's” (IE their own) eccentric and contradictory belief systems fully and without question.

Why would the masses follow those that call them asses and insult their core values to their face? Who on top of this have nothing to offer them but nothing at all?

The sad fact for Us believers in Organic Society is that the current 'right wing' movement in the Anglo Sphere cannot and will not accept its own failings and must project blame onto others while never ever even considering the problem is internal to itself. Blaming is a projection of weakness.

Why would the common Western Man want to associate with folks that act like demoralized school girls insisting that nobody will let them be free? Who sees this and thinks,"There is where We want to place our bounty", who?

In this regard the current far right movement is more of an online cult with a hodge podge of confused beliefs that have no center of gravity or meaningful application to the real life of the West, than it is a well thought out mass movement.

It is this 'goonish' and inept public display coupled with the far right's open contempt for the common people that ensures their ongoing failure, not any conspiracy external to themselves.

The inability to provide meaningful answers to the day to day questions in life, twinned with the elitist contempt for the masses ensures failure, in and of itself.

Thesis.

Therefore it follows that for the cause of those that believe in Organic Principles to begin to succeed those persons who believe in an Organic Society based on solid families in homes, with hearths, passing on a heritage, must bring on a large segment of the common people to their beliefs.

However for this to happen they must formulate their beliefs such that they conform to common experience, and they must also be internally sensible and non-contradictory.

These beliefs must be presented in such a manner as to appeal to the manners and ways of the people while steering them towards a society more in line with the theory presented in this work.

And further since belief informs action, the acts of the those that believe in Organic Principles must be in line with the goals of those principles.

Antithesis.

Therefore the most sensible way forward would be to formulate NEW Principles that openly embrace the common people from the family level as being paramount to the Organic Society. One Big Family of Families.

These new principals must be presented in the nature of civic-social-economic ideals. To be guidelines upon which to base the outcome of actions social political and economic. Morality Matters. Uniformity of Belief is Crucial.

In short these new principles that will replace the hodgepodge conflicting and meaningless concepts that the modern 'right' presents with The Organic Social Theory, which we hope will be able to unify and unite the effort at an ideal level while allowing for greater flexibility at the operative level. More uniformity of ideals with less micromanagement of the details that lead to the outcomes.

The facts as derived from this line of thought will be presented as the plain facts of existence, as an answer all of the big questions in the people's lives.

These principles will grow because they will be useful while lending themselves to flexibility and general applicability.

True to our core principles but not hateful to our people who are after all merely lost and misguided needing our aid to find the path.

In this way The Organic Social Theory and its advocates will go from being associated with the hated fringe anarchic right who are internally confused, to being well founded upon correct principles and thereupon will find themselves a proper loyal base amongst the population. Those that believe in Organic Principles themselves will also go from being associated with buffoons and charlatans play acting at being 'nobles' to being more or less thought of normal people who do WORK in the SERVICE of their FOLK, and who in return are well thought of by their folk.

But all of this begins with the cause of those that believe in Organic Principles purging those elements of thought, action and ideals, from the past which have no application in the future; and coming down off the mountain to meet the people in the middle, like proper leaders of Men.

Synthesis.

The movement shall have to journey mentally and spiritually from being highhanded lords, to being proper servants of their people. For the highest nobility is service, and all proper right to rule is based upon the duty to do good for those ruled. This must be the internal light that guides the actions of The Organic Social Theory – The Common Good over Self Interests. If they shall not others shall fill this vacuum of true leadership and direct the outcomes of events.

If The Organic Social Theory externalizes this truth of leading by providing a good example in performing lawful legal, yet useful and 'good' actions in the local community.

This will generate good will. Good will coupled to proper action based upon right understanding, will in and of itself work to draw to The Organic Social Theory the very masses that have scorned them to this point.

Life builds upon life, and good upon good. Do well;
Build much; Bring in Others; Continue cycle.

If The Believers in Organic Social Theory play the role of the well meaning elder brother, or even paternal father, who have their people's interest at heart then the nation will embrace them and return this affection. As you do, so you are judged; is it not so?

If the those that believe in Organic Principles speak in terms that people understand, then the masses will comprehend. An adult must find the language to put difficult concepts to those less mature than them, or they are poor stewards of the people.

If they act and live humbly, dutifully, and do what must be done selflessly then people will in time elevate them to do their duty. Since all that 'will to power' are 100% unfit to wield power.

If they lead their own lives' in ways that bring reward and a betterment of, their own families and the to the lives of the commons, then they will have proven themselves to be worthy of their peoples adoration. For who is more worthy of his country's love than he who has made his country strong body and soul?

The cause of those that believe in Organic Principles would do well to remember that Man to Man relations are far more powerful than any money, or economics or any other factor. Like draws to like, Life to Life.

It is the fact that The Organic Social Theory acknowledges these relations, as beginning in the family and expanding out to the greater nation that sets The Organic Social Theory apart from all out modeled pure mechanical and materialists belief systems. The family is the solid foundation upon which the theory rests. The unit by which the rest is to be judged. The means to freedom from our bondage to modernity and PC. The Strong Base.

The Believers in an Organic Society will by their own word be a 'first family' at a community level; one to make the circle complete; such that life grows from life.

We shall do this by the A, B, C's of the matter.

A.) Who:

A strong stable society is based upon strong families, who are based around the male and female lifelong bonding pair – premise.

Our pseudo society has effectively destroyed this base, by means of subversion of the patriarchal home order; the elevation of alternative 'lifestyles' that only produce death, the destruction of traditional morality at all levels starting in the home and rotting outwards from there; and by destroying the stability of the family by the agency of legally enforced no fault divorce.

This weakening of the strong base has allowed for the rest of the subversion that is PC modernity. PC is well funded, organized and widely dispersed among the people with a consistent message; those who oppose it are not and thus are hapless to stop the destruction about them.

The destruction of our society, has left an awful lot of men, in the rubble, under the wreckage that modernity and 'progress' has brought upon Our People and our National-State. These men, are bound to pay for families in name only, who have no loyalty to them and demand payments from these men but refuse to do their duties to the men in return.

These men are legally in effect serfs. These men are the most obvious first demographic that those who wish to reestablish Organic Society in the West should appeal to, for these men have no illusions about the system's benevolence nor do they believe in any of its lies.

These men are simply waiting in the soup kitchens, underneath bridges, sleeping in their cars, for a glimmer of hope, for a light to guide their way. Essentially they are waiting to find new purpose, so that they can do what men do and that is to build the basis for social and political organization, by means of their economic-cooperation organization.

If this sounds complex but what it means is that men naturally work together if presented the chance and given a real meaningful reason and they will then work very hard to create value which value is then used as the basis for social and politic order thus the Mens economic efforts are the basis for social and political stability and society, just as the stable family is the basis for the man's ability to work and build value effectively.

So in effect those who wish to reestablish Organic Society must go to these outcast, brow beaten men, expose them to the truth that they can have a better future if they but only come together with effort and thereby merge with them becoming an extended family to each other; One, United.

A Great Family that can do great things if they but act like good normal productive virile, healthy, able and generally useful noble men that a rural community would WELCOME into their ranks.

Then from this will flow the natural productive forces which come from people cooperating to a common end; however this natural zeal must be channeled or like a flood it will merely run off not doing much good and usually doing much damage.

Common understanding of values, common expectations and a common willingness to work for each other will go a long ways to digging a deep and wide harness these productive forces.

B) What:

Once those who wish to reestablish Organic Society have this family, drawn together from the outcasts of modernity, and hammered together with the ideals of Family, and the Organic Theory of Society; and have burned into them a desire for a solid stable home, hearth and heritage of their own, then, they will need to organize to consolidate and to conceptualize long-term plan(s).

Thus it follows this family must be adopt for itself at least a nominal organization, and understand that some measure of hierarchy and great amounts of discipline and group restraint are essential to any large scale organization affecting long-term goals, and keeping the group together as one.

In general Organization is important because it teaches large groups of people how and WHY they are going to work together for common interests.

There are many different forms of specific organizations available from many different forms of charities and nonprofits, to for profit corporations, to single proprietorship businesses, and a host of others; but the essential element of all of them is that there is a planning principle, which is able to save capital for the enterprise to use later upon long-term goals.

In most English speaking countries there is a concept called a Mutual Benefit (Not and For Profit) Corporation. This is basically a taxed but not for profit corporate structure that allows many people to come to together and act as one legal person for many many purposes, including, clubs, charities, self help groups, insurance pools, community gardens, farmers markets, trust funds, housing associations, and many many more perhaps including the credit union but that is usually provided for by another specific act.

This form of organization is similar to an LLC (limited liability company) or S type corporation in that they require little paper work to establish, and simply provide the agent with a layer of corporate immunity while the tax owed is basically the same or in some cases slightly less than if you simply filed as a self employed person, the main advantage gained is that each member of the new familial society has some measure of legal immunity against total bankruptcy in the worst case scenario and each learns some degree of 'know how' as to paper work, taxation and business in general.

For those who wish to reestablish Organic Society I would posit that a worthy first step and initial goal that these men could work and save towards, would be to save up, and jointly purchase rural and suburban lands that are unwanted or run down; slowly move the new family there into 'group homes' or communal housing (the idea being to save on useless repetition of costs and forge working friendships among the 'housemates' if possible as a bonus.); then work to build them up into viable small farms and home based businesses; while also building bridges to the locals by good works and generally acting with good will towards them coupled with respect for their ways. A willingness to help and good efforts in that direction make all the difference we estimate.

This would allow the new emerging organic family to learn to work together as one and to learn to submerge their personal interest in the common cause. It would take them away from PC's urban power base and place them squarely among the rural folks are are largely themselves dissidents from Liberal Modernity.

This working environment would allow the space and freedom for the new family to produce wealth which could be exchanged or traded with the local population. If this was handled in a just and generally honest and forthright manner, it would be to gain goodwill with them and show that nationalist family cares about them and their interests.

This value produced could be used to provide charitable relief to show by actions the family's intent for the commons.

The Goal will be to house, feed and clothe all the family members; make money; create capital; generate good will among the locals; and live successful lives. As they bond into an extended family with their community by the natural procession of man meets woman.

This will ensure that they continue growing in political and social numbers such that the new extended family – the first family and the community that have become as one – can send emissaries to the near by rural areas, small towns, and other municipalities.

The steady result will be a spreading of the area under the family of families influence in the rural areas, as well as a steady accumulation of administrative and governing skills by attempting to be elected to public offices at all local levels. Then to slowly to move back into the suburban areas, and some select urban areas to spread the ideals of the Organic Society and to show its successes as persuasive arguments unto themselves.

Thus they shall have a base upon which to operate that extends into the suburbs and rural areas, such that unlike a mere political party they will be able to provide fully functional life assistance to those deemed worthy of their efforts.

But to not get ahead of ourselves now we get to:

C.) How:

1.) The Location is important. The chosen local must have the resources needed to support industrious people – from raw materials to finished products freedom means a secure supply of resources. It must have water that cannot be shut off from the outside – without water there is NO life or agriculture. It must have the right kind and number of inhabitants who will be receptive of the intergalist organic nationalist message of the first family. And it must be far enough from the centers of imperial power as to be unnoticed by the PC regime, so as to be more or less immune to its influence – this will ensure an insulated area in which to introduce the ideals of the Family to larger audiences and to have a larger chance of being the sole viable voice in those areas.

In such a chosen location the family will have to locate and then proceed to to 'prove' themselves the equals of the locals, and act the part of brothers, and sons to their new community.

Part of this includes acting with couth and manners towards the locals and 'taking them on board' by presenting one's self to them, and simply allay their concerns and answer their questions so as to head off bad tidings, gossip, rumor and the other thousand misunderstandings that aloofness will only aggravate. Now, it is 100% true that legally one is not required to consult anyone but the seller, and a few other functionaries in the local 'county seat' or town hall about ones purchase of the land and subsequent use of said land. It is a private matter in so much as this goes, true enough, LEGALLY.

However we are not Lawyers and ethically speaking, practically, and person to person, the age old custom of meeting with the locals and breaking bread and explaining one's self and intent openly and honestly, still carries pretty big mojo in the country. Hospitality is a sign of good intent and it shows that one has a certain manner about one's thinking that reflects in one's social attitude toward others.

It could – legally – be disregarded but it is just such slights that turn country folks and poor folks off of the more high handed rich and middle class gentrifiers that 'return to the land' – that is invade small towns and try to take over throwing money about like pimps – to say nothing of the mass immigrant invaders. And Our Family will have NO want of such poor regard from them in fact this would be the ultimate failure – as it would show that our people were too stupid and proud to find a way to be proper members of an already functioning rural community ready for the family ideals. The shame and fault, would be Ours and no others.

We wish to stress that this, all the meet and greet is not about 'We have to' it is about 'We think this is the right thing to do'. It is purely a matter of character, or even ethics rather than law, which have more weight and will gain more good will than cold adherence to the impersonal anti-nationalist 'law' we linger under today in the modern West. In a very small village one could and should simply invite the entire population – man woman and child – to the tavern (local meeting hall), buy them all some food, put some refreshments out, shoot a few rounds of darts and pool, laugh a few laughs, maybe tell a joke or two, then, let them ask all the questions they have in a calm and friendly environment.

The key is to answer forthrightly and leave them without ill will and at best with good will. This should not be that hard 99 times out of a 100 if one is really just moving out to the country to be one of the rural working folks and live a life close to the soil, and attempt to build a solid foundation upon which to raise families of our own.

2.) This leads us to point two: People like Ants, not grasshoppers. Look to the Ant Oh Sluggard how she toils with no overseers! If one goes to an area that is run down, and does things to make it better. Then folks will notice and generally approve of this even if they don't agree with one on much of anything. They will at least see that you do as you say, and that your say has meaningful weight behind it.

We feel that if the other differences were at least left unresolved civilly that some elbow grease, genuine effort and productive work ethic, could tip the balance from NAY to AYE many times out of a hundred.

And we know that doing something positive, useful and productive is more useful than not, every single time all the time, every time.

3.) Bring what the family needs from the outside: Coming equipped to succeed about 99% of the battle. Bring tools, food, water, medicines, bandages and camping gear so that from the outset, a hygienic, clean, fairly organized living space and be laid out. Think: base camp. This will also show the locals the family have some clue and are not going to be a burdensome and tiresome unwelcome addition to the community.

This will show that the Family has some organization, and common sense. Again this will be a basis for respect if not admiration and can be a deciding edge when things are put in the balance. People like organized, clean folks who think ahead. Add in good will and honest efforts and We feel this will lead to acceptance by the community of the family.

4.) Amplify Similarities and down play differences.

Basically: Blessed are the Peace Makers for they shall inherit the Earth. In the context of a group of men melding into a family unit based on the Organic Theory and moving to a community to bond with said community, this would mean that one would try to do good things for the locals One would be polite, mannered and proper. And one would ensure that ALL of one's fellows did likewise, as it would seem to Us that finding ways to make ones presence useful to the locals could not hurt the acceptance and bonding process. Helping out is one sure fire way to be included sooner or later. And it builds a sense of 'these are our people' in the family of erstwhile lost and rootless men.

It is a win win for everyone and that is because it is based upon the natural and normal relations of men serving a community which in return accords them respect and a 'place' among them of honor.

5.) Never make it an issue of 'us V you'. Who here would not fight to the death for Our home? If somebody came and told Us they were talking over, would We fight? Yes One would if one is worth one's salt. Truly it does not matter whom, nor what pretext: If Anyone is 'taking' from Us, then WE are fighting it out to defend our Homes. This is instinctual. Anyone who has ever had their town overran by immigrants understands this. And those of Us moving to this new town are immigrants. Being respectful of the local's ways never hurts the prospects of peaceful settlement, acceptance and bonding in, with and by THEIR town.

Once, the nationalist family, has established itself, on at least one parcel of land, and is doing economically and socially well enough that expansion is feasible, then We advise creating a series of interlocking corporate enterprises like those mentioned briefly above and making the informal enterprises more structured and directed beyond mere survival of the small family come to its new community.

The purposes of this increase in organizational complexity will include: to expand the families functional reach; to help manage and control their holdings; to aid them in attaining goals necessary to the formation of a wider Organic Society; to allow them to divide labors and apply skills each in his most productive sector; so that the family can live the ideals of the Organic Society, thereby defusing them by action; and in short to allow the family and larger community it takes on board to learn the skills needed to be a great

We have seven (like the notes of the Scale) of these in mind. They are meant to build from each other, and to mutually self support each other. They are based upon building up raw material supplies first (food, fibers and green fuels primarily at the start), then applying labor to these raw materials to create finished products from them, which have an exchange value. The family will bring on the local community into a proper organic community. The organic community will further increase the value produced by multiplying the families labor into a family of families labor, and the whole will use this value toward the end of creating their own credit union. Thence the community from there building up the rest of the vectors necessary for the Family of Families to have the means to replace the prison bars of modernity with Organic Economic, Social and Political Pillars built from the ground up to serve the Peoples' best ends and which are an extension of their living selves.

Having these corporate bodies in place allows for the individual members to have at least some legal immunity from full personal liability and it allows for them to ALL act as ONE legal persons under a variety of guises so that they can do more for all by multiplying their efforts and cooperating rather than uselessly competing with each other. The family will pull in the same direction and will use these basic corporate persons to help make up their mind in which direction to pull, then use their skills and know how to best do it, all the while learning collectively the habits and skills needed to live in the new organic society they are working day by day to create step by step, stone by stone.

Small stones piled deep and high a strong wall make.

First among these is a Land Management Corporation to mutually manage the 'families' holdings and to assign various family members their parcel to work, and generally act as the. The LMC will own the family's holdings in total but members will possess and use them for the ends of their own families and the whole family of families such that each reinforces the other and good will builds good foundations which result in good outcomes for all. From Many One. From ALL Some. To All Their Just Due.

The Second (set of two) to function as a local market (Farmers market) and as a local regulatory agency (Producers cooperative) this would allow for the family and for the local people to learn that their work and effort is the basis for all economic value, as well as providing them with a means to control the value of their own labors on the market.

The market will set the prices of the products produced by the its members who will (largely) also be members of the producers cooperative which will control quality and help members coordinate labor such that all get the maximum output from the available labor.

These two will work together to ensure that those that produce and NOT stock jabbers and commodity brokers get the value, benefits and over all enjoyment of their labors.

Markets will set prices by matching labor and labor, dollar for dollar ideally if the time ever comes for issuing our own currency but until then they will act again to more generally ensure the value of the labor stays in the local economy to enrich those that produced that value from land by application of their labor's, and the regulations were both practical and conducive to productive and just local results when applied in the context of organized group of men seeking to establish organic society one brick at a time..

Third a credit union, which will be capitalized by the labors of the family and the local people.

The family will set aside a percentage of all incomes to this end. This credit union organization would allow the family and all the people who worked and helped to build it up in these more rural areas, to much more fully capitalize upon the fruits of their own labor.

It would allow them to invest in their own future, in the future of their children, and in the future of the community. In effect it would allow them to be free of the international market and the International Bankers.

This would be the step at which the family and the community into which they had placed themselves become one in interests and commonality of goals. They will become one having duties and responsibilities one to the other like proper men in an organic whole societal commonality.

At all rates they will SURELY be masters of their own credit beholden to none but their own labors. This unto itself is the most worthy of the tasks put before us: Break the bonds of interest and the bankers whim over our People by the People becoming their own bankers and side stepping the agents of usury and chaos. A credit union is the poor man's bank. His Shield against the darts of the Bankers Lies.

A credit union in the context of a tight commonality, would allow them to have control and real power over their own jobs, homes, and general well being.

It is the lynch pin and engine of the whole organic society's economic ideals – that each productive person creates a dollar every time he makes a dollars worth of goods and services for use or exchange, and thus OUR collective labors as a People, are Money, and we who produce, who labor, and who create value, are a bank and therefore have NO need of any other outside power lending us anything since We would then merely be abdicating our natural ability to create value from land by using labor upon it.

The fourth being a charitable nonprofit designed to help others while spreading the message by example not empty words. The Family will show its rhetoric to be true by its actions. It will purposefully set aside a percentage to give as the modern equivalent of alms to the poor, and needy from among only those just slightly outside the family circle of businesses and properties, from those that live near and are in need – no preachy nonsense, no lectures about anything, just food, music, perhaps some song and dance, and then some literature at the exit when they leave that they might perhaps wish to read. This will show those outside the circle that you are both artistic and literate people, and that you can have a fun time, and 'be at one' with them on their own terms. Correct bonding person to person, family to family, is the basis for all good government as good government is the expression of good character of the people that found the polity as such.

Also as part of a 'community charity' program the Family will set aside money, and time to assist local community with many other personal, economic, and other matters by all expedients from cleaning the old's gutters, to helping refurbish public buildings, the family will be there doing their part, showing that they mean what they say about being ideally a circle of good will helping those with good will.

The fifth being a political society with the goal of securing control of both parties at a local level and all non partisan offices available.

The reality is that BOTH parties are corrupt and are anti-national, anti-popular, anti-traditional, and anti-majority.

The political society will be dedicated to both exposing the corrupt nature of the 'two party system' and to ensuring that those loyal to the Organic Society are the candidates in all local races for both parties every time all the time, so that the local political machine will function to assist the construction of the Organic Society by the Family and its chosen Community as it comes over to join in the efforts seeing the acts and words of the Family as lining up as One.

Basically what truck does Organic Society have with Republican or Democrat? We are reject all modern, liberal theories. All materialist theories. All atheism. And all and every point of any theory that endangers the family as the corner stone for a stable lasting unique, unitary, complete, self sustaining people, nation and state.

We should work on bringing a new narrative about them to the masses – that the two choices are FALSE teams designed to divide. Thus it is high time to stop failing by supporting the GOP OR Dems and their policies and start picking off the 'socially conservative' ie WORKING CLASS dems, since the lower and middle classes have NO place else to go they must be loyal to the soil. Thus they are Our Natural Captive Base.

The way to this is by formulating an ACTUAL Party PROGRAM that has something to offer both the Red and Blue state working and middle classes, while putting it in sharp focus that the elite are treasonous to both at turns. Local control pluralities in both parties will ensure that such a program is brought forward the agency of the enemies instruments.

It will turn his phoney 'elections' which are selections by any other name, into locally ensured organic social advocates being in positions of authority. The idea is that the political society will encourage its members unofficially to join both the 'right' and 'left' local party so as to influence their choice of candidates ideally toward Organic vs Organic being every single local race, and those loyal to the Organic ideal being a plurality, majority or super-majority in every voting pool – in that order; uniting a plurality to gain a majority and positions in both local wings of the oligarchies political fronts as a means to a super majority control of candidates, elections, councils and all local public offices.

We must ensure that the masses find truth. Which leads to our next proposal.

Sixth a media corporation. It is essential to have control of Our own message from print to pronouncement. those who wish to reestablish Organic Society cannot rely upon the internationalist media.

We must control the message and have final say as to all matters editorial since it is a given that modernity will do all in its power to smear, belittle and otherwise shape the debate to our detriment being as we are a direct threat to the plutocrats and oligarchs who pay the media's way. A media that will report on reality from the view of the families in our circle and from NO other view.

That will ceaselessly expose the corrupt and rigged nature of the so called 'free market' and the 'liberal democracies' that support give it political protection so it can economically rob the masses of the productive working folks – blue and white collar.

Seventh an educational fund. The youth's education is the future. It is the reason for the sacrifices of the now. There is no treasure worth more than the mind of the children of our people. It is in their hearts that the future starts. Education is much much more than what merely happens in school. It is the values taught in the home, around the hearth and as heritage in the first instance. It is the proper understanding of what it means to be part of the people and the duties and rights that places upon one's being. But it is also proper reading, writing and arithmetic, a good grasp on logic, music and song, as well as the higher more specialized sciences. Education is a moral and an intellectual endeavor that by two means acts toward the common end of helping to bring up citizens who have the skills to be useful to the common good and the moral fiber to wish to be of use to the common good.

These and the proper skills necessary to fulfill one's roles in the organic society, with a general layer of what might be called 'cultural education' things of the nature of dance, song, and music that make the bonds that unite. The Organic Society should to our mind set aside a stipend to pay for tutors so that no child with the talent, interest and motivation will be left outside of the organic cultural circle. The fact is that 'education' need not be lifeless. If children can associate learning with signing and having fun – within limits of course – then it seems to us that they could be encouraged to want to learn more and perhaps would do better based on the idea that most of us do better at those things we can enjoy, rather than those things we despise – interest and pride in the work at hand be it learning or labor is a factor that we think is very much under appreciated in the modern materialist world of cold hard numbers and lifeless 'forces'.

At any rate if we want our Society to continue past the first generation the Youth must be Our Future.

And thus we have a complete set of 'functions' to counter the elites controls over the lives of ourselves and those we care about; all brought about by our hard labors and concerted efforts. This will enable our little band to have the base from which to establish themselves for further expansion to near by communities. The model will be always the same but also never quite identical as no two communities are exactly the same but all have the same basic requirements if they are to be healthy, strong, and well founded. Also the more communities on board with the organic society the larger the pool from which to draw upon as regards efforts, time, resources and all other tangibles.

After all of the above material foundation has been established, now the family – who started as unwanted outcasts and has been's – has a family of family's, in a functioning organic local community, who take care of their own economic/banking system, their own social order, and are well on their way to having full political power over their own destiny.

The key is the first group of men becoming a hierarchical family capable of organization who then work – socially-economically-politically – to become real blood family toward the locals in the area of operations they have chosen as their new home.

They will be able after all this work, and learning be able as if by natural instinct apply the ideals here in the actions they take to forward the folk in their daily lives. They will act as an example to spread these ideals to others. They will have taught themselves to be useful to their folk, both teaching and being taught by the folk who are the foundation upon which all this rests.

By applying the effort needed to get to this point they will have learned National Mindedness and unlearned selfish liberal thinking. They will become as if by nature forces each and every one singularly and collectively for the Common Good.

In so doing they will have won the most important struggle in all of life; the battle for ones one heart, and mind. They will have by sticking with this difficult program during its less than productive phases learned that the 'truths' which the market and liberalism had taught them are fully and purely lies meant to reduce us to atomized serfs and to break up the family, community and people into warring factions such that they can be ruled more readily.

In so winning this new mental spiritual freedom from greed and petty ambitions these men will have cleared the way for others to follow in their path; they will show that a better more fulfilling way of life is in fact possible. They will by nature try their utmost to free from the mindless greed and selfish petty ambitions of Liberalism all those around them into a better more noble way of existence which offers purpose to all that are loyal and who do their duty.

And clear and prepare they shall. And come to the message and results of this theory they shall.

They will act to do almost instinctively what is best for the families, home, hearth and heritage as if each and every one was in fact his own, as they will have in fact taken and been taken by these people into their hearts.

The common good will have become their own highest Duty to maintain. They each and every one will take pride and doing their duty as they are able with loyalty and steadfast courage in the face of all obstacles, from this service will come their sense of honor.

And thus these folks who will be able to answer with conviction the questions posed at the top of this document about Nations:

Who? A family makes a nation. Their family in this community is the foundation each and every one of a potentially great nation.

What? A nation is a family of families. These families together are the material for a nation.

How? By acting like a proper family. Us together, the new and old family members acting as one: That is a nation.

Why? Because we all have a family and we all need others to live a proper life. Family builds upon family until there is a Nation.

Where and When? Here and Now. Starting yesterday and continuing into forever! * See Appendix C for more 'questions and answers' about Organic Society.

The immediate Natural result of all this is that (most of) these men will find women and have children, raise them to have respect for the values that allowed all this to happen and attempt to keep the circle of life growing outward. For this to work in the real world however it will require the Family to understand that they are NOT the master of the community but its servant. That they as the enlightened ones who are bringing the impetus for change are the servants of the masses and their brothers. They come from and will return to the Popular Family that is the community. The Family is the servant of the whole community, trying its very best to take on all as brothers, sisters, cousins, aunts, uncles, mothers and fathers – to become REAL family to them by action and deep commitment to the principles outlined in the Organic Theory of Society.

Thus From A Family to an Organic Society with Proper Economic, Social and Political Relations.

Conservative?

What is being conserved?

Nothing.

True Conservatism is about ensuring OUR People survive, to enjoy the use of Our own land, under Our own laws, by the lights of Our own culture.

The Captive Right of 'Conservatism Inc'(tm) are liberal-PC-Cultural-Marxists whose job is to play act like they stand for the Majority as they in fact sell out the majority 'conservative' citizens to the money bags that fund both the Captive Right and the treason lobby Left.

Hear us our people, and weep for your nation as it has been betrayed. We have been sold for 30 pennies by Judas to the money lenders.

These plutocrats and economic elites have spared no expense to ensure that all 'allowed' or 'respectable' voices are bought by themselves. (This is why Trump has them so worked up as he is NOT bought by them and cannot be trusted to keep their 'arrangements' in place. However back to our narrative.)

The Historical Majority Rightful People of the West are nearly a minority. The Christian values of the west are almost cast down. The lands of the Western Peoples are being invaded and appropriated by foreign hordes of pillaging, raping, culture destroyers.

All this while conservatism inc seems to fiddle among the smoldering tire fires in the streets of the cities which were once the Western lands, like some sort of collective Nero.

Fires meant to burn out the foundations of the West. Fires meant to force us by fear and necessity to submit to PC multiculturalism and its death cult beliefs derived from Marxism's theories about 'universal humanity'.

Fires started by the direct action of the Left, Captive 'Right' and Big Money that backs both of the wings of the Two party facade called 'democracy' which a farce and a fraud – the Demos – that is the majority historical people – are silenced and kept out of 'archy' – that is power by all means fair and foul.

Fires started by subversives given legal protection by the Left and enabled by the 'conservative' leadership who have long since sold out to the false idols of the Leftist Cult called Multiculture Political Correctness – false leaders who value mammon over main street; money over mom and apple pie – false leaders who are perfectly willing to fall on their face on command from PC, Big Money and the Left's Diversity – and tolerate it as well. Fires, looting, pillaging ... and the Captive Right nary utters a whimper and that is because:

This statement has been the complete and utter truth since at least the Civil Rights Era – an openly subversive overthrow of Majority society, which put modern America on track for today's multicultural liberal death cult; an overthrow the Captive Right supports, since as things stand they are enthralled, nay captivated, even cuckolded, to the leftist world view. Their thralldom and treason come as a set. The elite among the Captive Right get money and perks, as well as being physically 'safe' for now from the PC hordes, so thus is their treason explained.

However what is totally beyond us; What We cannot figure out is:

WHAT is conservative about common middle and working class majority citizens playing along with this rigged game in which 'their own side' sells them out to the PC Death Cult?

Frankly the answer about, 'Well it is better then the left/liberals winning', – which we have all heard for decades—is absurd as the Leftist/Internationalist are winning in real time, all day every day and have been winning in a big way for some time now. (Hint: all the 'teams' in play are internationalist teams, thus no matter who wins internationalism wins by default.)

The money supports the Left so the captive right allows the Left to have its way with their 'conservative' base. It is rather like a pimp giving a girl out as a favor, actually.

But be that as it may, the Left has forced the following upon 'conservatives': Diversity, tolerance and political correctness free of question; Affirmative Action as a right; Safe Spaces to plot further subversion against traditional society; Gun Control by many other names; Babylonian transgenderism as normative, healthy and a veritable fact of nature itself; Support from the law and the State as they engage in the degradation of ALL traditional values as a protected and absolute 'right'; Centralized control of Education by which they spread their egalitarian, liberal, lies to the children; Mass Immigration to dilute the majority and to punish us for our white guilt; and last but not least a captive 'conservative' tax base that pays for all the left/centrist subversion of Our ideals, way of life, and biological integrity as a Western People, while they wait two, four and six more years to get all worked up about losing, over and over again...

Maybe honestly assessing reality would be a solution? Maybe leaving the false leaders and quack theories of the captive 'right' for real leadership who care about conserving the Majority People and Our values might be an option?

Leaders that do not lie to Us about reality. Leaders with the stones to stand up to PC's fantasy notions about White Guilt, 'Human Equality', Diversity, Tolerance and Oppression. Maybe, just maybe, leaders that OPENLY proclaim that the Majority have unique interests, and an identity and history worthy of being proud of might help us stop acting like whipped curs, huh?

Yes, yes, Hitler, how droll, let the media memes go folks. Just maybe it is time to put down the Hitler as he has nothing to do with modern immigration. That just is NOT cutting the grade... It is the liberal/PC/Cultural-Marxist equivalent of Pooh Pooh Head. We are all, way past that point. Dry those eyes. Now to continue with the process of mental liberation...

It is often claimed that third worlders are more socially conservative but, how does that help us when it is NOT our culture they wish to conserve? Conserving their culture among us helps us Native Born Majority Rightful Americans how exactly?

Assuming this is truth, that the invaders are 'more conservative', the predictable result is still that WE end up minorities in Our Own Lands...

What is conservative about that outcome?

How do you conserve a people and their cultural values by allowing them to be degraded and diluted to the point they are destroyed?

Do you all want to be INVADED by foreign hordes that WILL destroy your unique identity or not?

Basically, one cannot bring in huge numbers of totally biologically different people from all corners of the globe and for the most part directly out of the stone age – with the intent purpose which the left shouts daily from the roof tops of creating 'diversity' IE a minority out of the majority – and expect to keep the norms and customs of the proper majority first world citizens among the diverse soup so created. This is not rational. Nor will the former first world citizens so swamped by the third world barbarians, be able to keep the standards of living, material culture or the level of intellectual discourse at anything like its current Western Majority levels.

We all know this, saying the truth out loud will set you free, so again from the top: What is conservative about importing people that will displace your people and your principles in time? Nothing at all is the truthful 100% painful answer. It is in fact suicidal for our Western Nations to import all these third worlders who bring NOTHING except violence, squalor and barbarism. They are of zero value to the Majority Citizens.

Why does anyone tolerate being replaced by barbarian stone age savages?

Same reason conservatives join in calling anyone that objects to the mass immigration invasion, diversity, PC and other Leftist fantasy notions, 'Hitler' 'Racist' and 'Nazi' because Conservatives are ALL terrified of being called names by Liberals and Cultural Marxists... the labels Racist, Nazi and Hater terrify you folks... The Fact is that conservatives need to free their minds from the Left's value judgments and come over to the Nation. We are waiting to embrace our lost brothers and sisters, but only after One has let go of the PC and its death cult mentality. Free yourself from this burden of living up to the enemy's expectations and you will be free to serve the National interest exclusively with no shame.

We think freely of the PC, thus we can say without shame:

True Conservatism is about ensuring OUR People survive to enjoy the use of Our own land, under Our own laws, by the lights of Our own culture. True conservatism is based on a singular Nation in a land, and is NOT universal, at all, but particular and unique. True conservatism starts with conserving the People, their communities and the families which make up said communities. It is about preserving and passing on traditions and culture with pride. It is about keeping what is ours to pass down to our own.

Free your mind from PC and you will be free to Think of your Western Identity.

We think freely of the PC. If you wish to 'know what We think' read the PDF linked in almost all our works – link at end of document.

To sum up our beliefs in a few sentences: The White Western Peoples are under assault by PC and Money Forces which working as a team are importing the third world to break us down into serfs.

That is the long and short of Our beliefs.

It is logical, visually obvious and factual true according to the left's own public pronouncements and the 'right's' own stance upon these issues – To which we propose going back to Family as the foundation of People, and from there simply leaving this multicultural ship, to the end that We the Majority will be our own Ship.

We the Western Majority have NO need of the PC Multiculture.

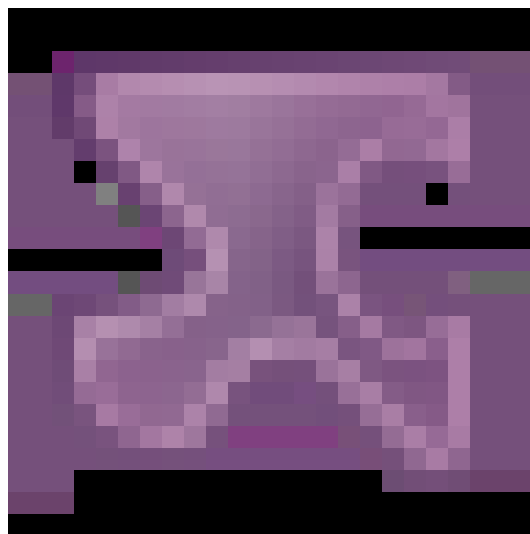

PC being purely a parasite that lives upon the Western Peoples the same as Marxism lived off the Slav Peoples for its time.

We are far more anti-communist than any of the modern right but also we are community minded and hate this individualist free for all likening it to rats in a flood – vile and base, lacking in honor.

It simply is not natural for humans to operate as little happiness units each preying upon his fellows... Liberalism is a form of War unleashed upon society so that others can reap the $$$ from the chaos.

This war will be ended by us to our advantage and the lies of PC, modernity and liberalism will be cast out from among our living spaces. This will ensure We have control of Our Destiny.

We have to be able to rely on us

Approximate spoken Text

We have to be able to rely on us.

Dependency, is the mother of slavery. Autonomy, is born of sufficiency, upon ourselves. Let these simple sentences sink in; if you do not control what you need, another is master over you. This is true, for us all. With this in mind,

Our attention turns to the fact, that the majority Americans, and their western European cousins, are utterly dependent upon an internationalist rootless cosmopolitan plutocratic oligarchy, who, have no loyalty to our people, and who are paying for both PC with it's mental poisons, and for mass immigration, which is displacement by any other name.

In short the elite of the West are waging mental, spiritual, and economic warfare against the majority European citizens of the West.

Those among the citizens of the west who refuse to be part of the national suicide that is PC coupled with mass immigration, must therefore, make from scratch and by their own efforts the means necessary to become free of any dependency whatsoever, upon the internationalist cosmopolitans.

The citizens, must be able to provide their own food, clothing, housing, and to use these provisions as a stable base from which to build industry, such that they will have control over the necessary items they need to survive.

To do this they must have a strong family and community identity and a 'common good' spirit that will not tolerate PC selfishness or greedy Judas like behaviors.

The citizens will have to fall back upon their historical identity, their historical majority, so that they thus can in autonomy control their historical lands.

For autonomy is born of sufficiency upon one's self. But this cannot be done in the school systems which are under the control of the rootless cosmopolitans, thus that dependency must be broken as well.

The minds of our people particularly our youths must be kept from the clutches of the rootless cosmopolitans and their enablers. Our citizens must become autonomous in their learning and their education, so that their culture, may be kept by them in their own lands.

From here the citizens would be wise, to form their own counter banking system, and thus be free of the rootless cosmopolitans tyranny. The road to this organization is paved by our historical identity, by our loyalty to this identity, and our love for the intangibles which this identity implies. The great fortress of our people is the fact that we have no place to fall back to, and thus our love for this land, will be among our greatest assets.

The cosmopolitan politically correct elite know these to be facts, thus the reason for white guilt, the indoctrination with the nonsense about racism, sexism, homophobia, and the rest of the buzzwords which PC fills people's minds with in order to break down their identity, and weak and their love for their native lands.

It can be readily grasped that while we are dependent upon the international cosmopolitan system for our provisions, for our education, for our moral instruction, we are slaves, to those who hate our way of life, and who wish to displace and destroy us.

Therefore it behooves the citizens to becoming Morally Autonomous from the PC's world view and to build upon the values of their fathers rather than accept the 'new' values of this degraded age.

This is a great truth: the ultimate root of autonomy from PC lies in being morally autonomous, and determining for, by, and with reference only to ourselves what shall be our moral law and how it shall be applied. It is this control of our group conscience which is the most paramount autonomy that can be gained from the politically correct system. For here is the great power that leads to all other successes against the PC Internationalists.

In point of fact, the power that becoming autonomous from PCs morality accrues to those who are willing to embrace it, is the root of the motivation which will drive the masses to overturn the apple cart of political correctness. Mental spiritual autonomy is the wellspring of all true freedom.

From here we become Our Own Men and from that point We and Not PC write our History again ... We have become able to rely on us. And thus we are able.

The single cell vs. the whole body

The liberal individualist single happy cell model was always doomed to failure, right from the start. The failure is inherent in the idea that people are 100% complete unto themselves and have no need for anyone else. If this cellular basis for society is allowed, doomed follows close by on the time line.

Shortly Swiftly, and Surely.

The simple reason is that humans operate as groups of families, of communities, as peoples, not as individual cells. There is no individual cell that can long survive in nature. And so it is with people. Humans operate in groups of at minimum a family unit. These groups of persons (families, communities, the People as a whole) not the single individual are the vehicle of human history. If the individual is taken from the context of these groups they become sterile and lifeless – man and women alike.

Culture, Commonality and History are a group effort.

The liberal world order in its relentless quest to atomize and singularize all things, has been breaking down these group bodies for quite a long time. Like a greedy and mindlessly destructive virus that invades a cell, so the liberal order has invaded and destroyed the people, community and family units among the Western World Order that was once Christendom. It also like a virus uses the now lifeless bits of its hosts to replicate more virii which act to further weaken the host(s). This is all liberalism – both economic and social – from Smith to Mises, Mills to Popper, it is known by its corrupted fruit and denuded landscapes.

Worse, yet for the Western Peoples, Liberalism paved the way and opened the door for Marxism, which is merely liberalism striped of all romantic notions and taken to the logical extreme implied from the start – Materialist, Determinist, and Atheist. Thus attack the Liberal root and you take out the Marxist branches as well – fall this rotten tree must for it has no substance.

The reality is that the modern hyper-individualist hedonist world is alienating, and empty of true joy, fulfillment and satisfaction – for everyone of all ages by and large – even among the plentiful goods and shallow shows the masses find but temporary escapes, which leave them lacking, always needing more, never sated. Among all these material goods there is NO sense of The Good, community or anything like working towards a common good that transcends merely personal gain.

The entire consumer matrix is designed to stimulate us all to always want more, more, more, and to never at any time find our fill, want as we might. It thus is logical since it promotes atomized people as individuals that it leads to alienation person to person, and because it has nothing of substance to offer it must empty all it touches as the cold bleeds away the heat. Logically it is no wonder that many of Us feel as we do that something is terrible rottenly amiss with this completely upside down system.

And this my dear readers is because to arrive here as a collective whole, we have forsaken much that once filled these voids in men of former ages – ethics, heritage, traditions, communities, families, trust, goodness, God himself, and not least our own honor. All this in exchange for beer, sports, soaps and shopping malls – TV Circuses and Bread Crumbs!

Let us be as a light in the materialist, atheist, determinist, darkness. Let us Be the Heralds of a return to normalcy, Let us enforce Life by teaching a History about our Common Past that will motivate the Majority to make a life affirming Future.

After all, History is the knowledge of the past – it is NOT a science; it is an ART – a knowledge that we shall wield without SHAME to our ends. A knowledge that is Power; A power that will bring the Single Cells back into a Whole Body!

Barbarian lives don't matter:

(B D M for short)

(Warning Massive Triggers Coming: Seek Medical and/or Legal Attention if you are fragile.)

There is an awful lot of chatter from the media and academics, these days about the supposed, 'equal' value of lives, minority thug barbarian lives particularly.

We are told, that every minority barbarian thug life, which is cut short by, an assumed to be White policemen, suddenly has vast impart, and truly matters, as if by ghetto fabulous magic, due to the 'fact' that, 'black lives matter'.

'Black lives matter' – so runs the never ending narrative – the narrative We are told by the academics, media, sjw and 'community leaders' because White racist police only harm, arrest or otherwise cause injury to innocent inner city minority youths. Gentile caring youths, who would have been future saints, community leaders, and rap stars, if only allowed to grow to their full thuggish potential.

Saints community leaders, and rap stars, who were slated to graduate university with the highest marks. These special youths incidentally would surely have invented the cure for a cancer, we are told, if only their life was not tragically cut short by racist White police backed by a racist White system.

We are told that the mile long rap sheet of the barbarian thug, was merely a technicality. We are often told that it was just such 'experience' at 'keeping it real' in 'da hood' that enabled him to so ably enrich the ghetto community, along with the greater society as a whole.

We are without fail told how 'they was a good boy' who 'dindu nuffin'. Good boys, who though they might have been covered in the victims' blood, were completely innocent. Every time against all odds. Because? Black Lives Matter – Full Stop.

We are told just as endlessly that for majority White people to insist that 'all lives matter' IE that White lives have value as well, is racist, evil and exclusionary. While we are told that the exclusionary slogan 'black lives matter', is just and apparent; the implication, never spoken but always there, being that all nonwhites' lives matter, while Whites (racists) are merely racists whose lives, do not matter.

in a 1,000,000 subtle ways, and 1,000,001 not so subtle ways. We are daily told emotionally laden stories, fables really, recounting yet again how violent vicious thuggish barbarian lives matter, more so, after they are killed in the act of their barbarism, by (White) police. Lie. Vicious Wicked Lie.

In point of fact every important authority figure in the PC modern world has made pact with this wicked lie – This false slogan which, we are told endlessly by the Marxist Media to excuse Minority misbehavior. This false slogan used to shift the blame onto the White Man for the actions of others. This false insidious slogan, which is a means of accusing Whites of racism by proxy through the police, seeking to trigger ‘White guilt’, which will act to appease the barbarian horde rather than hold it accountable.

It has come to the point that We are even expected to repeat these absurd lies among ourselves as if they are some sort of joyous, truthful and useful news to be celebrated.

We shall not do this thing.

We have made no such pact with Death. We reject the expectation that we lie to each other about the value of such 'lives'. We shall not lie to you or anyone else about the value of barbarian lives.

We state emphatically that these barbarian thugs have no one to blame for the deaths they meet but themselves. We state emphatically that viscous violent thug barbarian lives, not only do not matter, but that their lives are also overly costly, as well as being, overrated in regards their relative value to the majority citizens. The same citizens, who pay for the thugs to live, bred and prey upon us in our own lands.

We state that barbarian thugs, who pose a threat to the lawful majority, should be put down in the street with no mercy or remorse. We state, that anyone who supports these thugs against lawful authority, by, stonewalling, protesting, rioting or looting to 'honor the memory of the dead' should be treated as if they are the thugs themselves.

We state that no strong civilization allows its dregs to intimidate it on the streets of its OWN cities, nor do the strong allow the weak to pillage and loot among them. – this is what we state.

We state that the honest lawful citizens whom these thugs rape, rob, murder, and subject to other horrific terrors, matter far more than any of these barbarians thugs ever mattered. We state that the least amongst these honest lawful majority citizens, are worth more than all of the barbarian thugs in every ghetto across the entire nation.

We state without ambivalence that it is the majority honest lawful orderly citizens, whose lives matter and whose safety is paramount. The hardworking citizens, who play for the PC traitors and diversity to enrich us, matter, while those that threaten their well being do not matter.

We state that every thug who raises a hand to any honest hardworking lawful citizen, takes his life into his own hands, in effect they kill themselves when they engage in lawless barbarism among us.

We state that, our people matter, while Barbarians who cause us harm do not matter – alive or dead.

QED: We state emphatically that these barbarian thugs have no one to blame for the deaths they meet but themselves. We state emphatically that viscous violent thug barbarian lives, not only do not matter, but that their lives are also overly costly, as well as being, overrated in regards their relative value to the majority citizens. The same citizens, who pay for the thugs to live, bred and prey upon us in our own lands.

To Finish –

We say that those of you who attempt to use the words hater, racist, NAZI, or other attempts to emotionally manipulate us into silence are dupes in pact with death, having sold out to the modern world and PC/diversity for a temporary safety amongst the maelstrom that is the rising tide of diversity's anarchy.

We say the Barbarian Thugs are merely encouraged by the academic and political left, social justice warrior types, and media appeasing them as they grow more and more restless and violent.

We say the turncoats will find it a bad bargain, as the increasingly barbarous behaviors of the ghetto thugs, will more and more endanger their family and person. A danger they promoted under the banner of 'Black Lives Matter' – IE 'Anarchy is the way to get things'. A danger which will turn upon them and devour them as they signal to the false idols of Equality and Tolerance, in horror and shock only then to realize – Barbarians Don't Matter.

Free Speech? F ree Speech?

Only if one is a leftist hippy homo loving race mixer whistling past the graveyard of the West on the way to Sodom or what the cucks of the world call 'tolerant' of being 'enriched' by the diversity horde.

The real fact is that, in the modern USA – and the 'free' world more generally – One truly only has 'free speech' if one says what the left allows one to say. Every thing else is labeled 'hate'.

Hateful speech gets censored using 'terms of service', codes of conduct, ethical standards and other low life lawyer games here in the USA, while at the same time SJW types aided by the Media, Academia and Government, will go after one's employment – hate has no right to participate in the workplace – threatening one's surely weak willed boss with the hellfire of 'racism' if they don't shun one like a leprous apostate. They will hammer away and do everything possible to drum one out of society forthwith and posthaste, since they decide what is to be freely said in this free land and no others.

So yeah anyone 'can' freely say anything IF they are willing to risk their good name, job and the security of their family.

The parody starts when the oppressive menstruating SJW apparatchiks pretend that they are being oppressed by the people they have decided to hold their little inquisitions upon – Oh yes they will LOOK for folks talking about things they don't like.

Claim to be triggered.

Denounce the person they intruded upon with shaming control words like racism and hater.

All the while trying to rally the crowd to denounce the person intruded upon by the little communist agitator.

And then as a final act the agitators will pretend that they are the 'victim' of an aggression, if their intended victim fights back against their nonsense accusations.

It happens all the time on social media, at schools, parks, stores and frankly we can only imagine where else, that the purveyors of perversion, and putrefaction, look for anyone having a conversation about race, nation, history, biology, politics, or any other subject not to their liking. Find what they FEEL to be nonconformity – Then Commence to pretend that they have the right to 'look' heretics over to see if us unwashed racists live up to PC orthodoxy in our deeds and thoughts.

In their arrogance, they act like Bolshevik Informers and Fat Cat Party Bosses! They act as if their feelings are the Law. As if their whim is our Moral imperative. As if they are the living face of ORDER, JUSTICE and PEACE. They seem to think that the White Majority need their leave or permission to think and speak as we wish, will or whim.

Triggers coming, clutch the pearls baby --

We are not subject to SJW or the Lefts pseudo-morality. We simply grant them NO power to dispose of our person, let alone to control, order or otherwise inform, our thoughts, feelings or actions. Let them VOTE – We shall VETO!

Veto – I REFUSE CONSENT! Yes, WE refuse to consent to their bully boy games and badgering antics of the SJW types. Lawyer games are based on paper; Fire is greater than paper.

We refuse to allow these modern day Babylonian Temple Merchants the RIGHT to hold judgment over us. We will not be harped on by harridans as if they are our headmistress.

That is for cucks, punks, sissies, and boys.

We tell such as this to shut their lips and mind their own shop. We realize that We are NOT subject to the PC folks' will. We refuse to allow these lowly and vile hoi polloi the right to judge us, as we are the rightful Lords of This Land.

We do not allow the enemy to shame us into accepting defeat. Mice allow cats to badger them.

The correct response to 'your a racist' is not 'no I am not' it is 'racism, racist, hater and the rest are imaginary concepts with no basis in fact, so only idiots babble about them as if they matter'. The correct response to 'you hate X' is 'no, rather you hate me because I won't agree with your view about X, but thanks for trying to manipulate me anyways.' The old 'but you are really afraid of Y' game is best counted with a variant of 'we will go into the tank with Y, Y being a bear, RIGHT after you do.'

The correct response to most PC accusations is bluntly, 'What you say and think does not matter in the least, now Shut Your Lips, or physically force us to comply, Please Leave as your Commie Gibberish is NOT Welcome.'

Never defend always deflect and attack. Always challenge their authority and make them carry the load of defending their insane world view. Deflect; Attack; Defeat!

The PC bots will double down on the names, huff, puff, rave, stomp, maybe even cry, but if you hold to the guns, they will go away in obvious defeat. This will leave YOU able to have your say to the crowd. This simple fact will encourage others to defy these PC commie control freaks in the future. They shame, you refuse to care, they flee, you win.

Deflect, Attack, Defeat!

That is how National freedom is had. Freely say what you want, free of concern for diversity, tolerance, or PC's moral approval. Freely defy their wants, norms and expectations with Nationalist wants, norms and expectations, this is how Nationalism is reborn from the rubble of PC Multiculture Liberalism. Freely be a Free Man who has NO need to ask their leave to freely say and think what is right, good and just for Free Men to think and say.

Then you are truly free of PC.

Dear victimized minority and self haters:

Are you sick and tired of being triggered by (the social construct which is totally just pretend called) White People?

Does the anger you feel knowing that Whites never made nuffin just eat your spleen?

Does the very idea of White Privilege cause you to lose sleep, even miss malt liquor drink time?

Are you so worked up about Whitesplaining that you feel the need to be in a more diverse and enriching environment free of the oppression and plain old boredom of Whiteness?

*Does the guilt you have over being 'white'
make you want to be a victim yourself?*

Are you a self hating person that needs more diversity than the First world can provide safely or legally?

Never fear the answer is here.

You do not have to stay here spinning your tires in the Whiteness.

You can be free of White and its evil micro aggressions.

There are still places blissfully free of 'Da Ebil White Man(tm)' and his oppressive hygiene, ethics and 'laws', where you can swing free, drunk on banana shine, and high on Khat. Maximum diversity means maximum enrichment after all.

How, oh how do I get to this magic place you ask?

First: Go South to the Tropics, or to any Muslim Land My Dear Lad. If the Natives are NOT Oppressively White ... Everything will be magically Haiti alright.

Flee the White and go to the diversity ... bring them tolerance and matriarchy ... surely they will love thee. Find your inner burden.

There are no bars on the windows, you can freely leave the First World.

Yes just leave, at ANY TIME. Then you book one way travel forward into diversity, and simply relocating to the Congo Basin, central Mexico, Angola or any Muslim nation.

Get on that Ship; take a Trip. For those that need the extra enrichment of native activities, we also offer: Darfur -- The One Way Tour -- guaranteed to provide so much in your face diversity and cultural exchange it is impossible not to feel super enriched! This is so much enrichment there that we suggest building a tolerance, since it can kill in its straight form -- small doses at first; worm has turned for you man.

No White Racism to inhibit 'free cultural exchanges'. 100% of the diversity with all the tolerance you can stand. Remember: Not all cultural exchanges are equal after all -- Never ever tolerate White's getting in the way of your premium enriching diversity experience.

Second: Stay put and be enriched by all the joyous diversity, till kingdom come.

What is Nationalism?

What is Nationalism?

What The Nationalist

Believes –

We Nationalists

believe, that Nationalism is a living structure that encompasses an entire holistic world view, social, economic, and political.

We nationalists

believe, in hierarchy under law, patriarchal sovereignty and orderly authority, as goods that exist for our best ends.

We nationalists

believe, that inside our nation there is an ordering from highest to lowest – moral, not merely a material ordering – in that some are simply more fit for certain tasks and that not everyone is equally capable, not even in theory.

*We nationalists
believe, that Nature was created with Inequality as its basis and that we must accept that some are simply more fit for some pursuits than others, but we also accept that inside our nation that regardless we are a unitary whole Family who will take care of our own as a Family. The best have a duty to the rest is the simplest manner in which it may be expressed.*

*We nationalists
believe, that from this natural familial order comes proper authority tempered by affections and justice. Thus, Nationalism posits that*

from a unique first or ancestral family, comes by natural stages of growth, a self-aware social, economic and political unit which forms a whole complete nation.

The nationalists believes that the family must be sound for the nation to be founded upon solid lasting and stable foundations for the nation to be well founded, Nationalism thus takes the family as the unit from which life comes as there are no living persons who have not a biological mother and father.

Nationalism affirms Life by regarding life as a link in a chain that connects present to the past and future. We nationalists believe in Life and thus We must reject the sterile individual as the embodiment of death itself. We believe in family for in family is life. Nationalism accepts that the family unit comes before any mythical individual.

Nationalism places the family, child, community and persons in that order of importance at the center of its thoughts actions and goals. We believe in our future over any liberal concepts or legal dictum.

*We nationalists
believe, that the Father is the center of authority in the family,*

the natural provider, defender, and ruler of the family, and that from his familial power flows the sovereignty of the National community as a whole family of families.

We believe that the mother is the foundation of first the people as a whole, and secondarily a stable lasting home, hearth from which to pass down a meaningful heritage, which when combined forms the Culture of the Nation.

We Nationalists believe that men and women are simply different in function and that they do not compete by nature but compliment each other

to the mutual advantage of all in the home, community and nation. We accept this mystery that produces life itself. A great wonder.

*We Nationalists
further believe that the natural divided duties and authorities of the man and women in the home are the basis for all civilized order, such order being required to rear children with the best chance of success relative to the survival of the nation.*

A nation is not any random pile of people in a given area, that is a disordered mob. A nation has a definite boundary and there are those inside and outside its circle of concern. A nation is a community of *families that act

as ONE whole family of families.*

Nationalism holds that each unique nation while similar to others, within its racial grouping, in some, even many categorically measurable manners are nevertheless unique and whole unto themselves with their own land under their own laws. A community of like nations in loose confederation we believe is the Future which Nationalism will promote after it becomes the dominate world view in the near term as globalism forces nations to lager up in self defense against its predations.

It is because of these

Beliefs that we Nationalist state that –

Nationalism values the natural division of labor between male and female,

to the end that

the home and children may be sound and whole.

Patriarchal Order is the basis for ALL sound social order. No other truth is possible.

Thus Feminism and individualism are both cancerous poison which are killing our kind.

Nationalism promotes the natural ties family to family such that webs of supporting and strong communities may result by natural action of affections. All such ‘welfare’ will be reserved for deserving members of Our Nation.

We nationalists see no reason to support outlander people who just happen to reside in our lands against all justice.

Nationalism openly proclaims that all economic activity is the result of some human action. Thus there is no reason to treat the ‘economy’ as some abstract entity apart from our own actions personally and as an aggregate. We further affirm that local is superior in every way over international as We are more loyal to Us than the cosmopolitans are to Us.

Nationalism will only look kindly those economic actions which benefit the nation. Economics is not a magical being separate from society or politics – economic acts have consequences – There is no right to impoverish the people for one's one personal advantage, just as there is NO right to legislate people into wealth – work not politics creates wealth. Nor is there any right to destroy the homes or communities of the People for mere economic advantage. Nationalists open declare the Nation to be greater than any market, regardless of any other factor since the People of the Nation are foundation upon which the market operates. Economics are merely a tool the Nation uses to its best ends.

Nationalism proudly states that we back and support the Majority Male Working and Middle Class who are the whipping boy of the modern PC system and who have been drug behind the feminist cart for far too long. A strong Nation is based on well employed fathers who can provide for families, without diversity or any other remnants of liberal PC remaining as stumbling blocks before them.

Nationalism has no shame in promoting the common sense idea that any government that does not serve the nation's best ends as sketched above must be replaced with one that does. Nationalists insist that any government that cannot serve the nation is useless to the National Well Being and must be replaced by those who can ensure LIFE to the National Body.

What the Nationalist Demands from His Community and His Nation

honest and who frugally use the public resources to the Best ends of the National Body. Nationalists demand that any government or official live up to these ideas in his public life. We demand that loyal duty be a part of each man's mental domain such that he is driven to courage and the honor his station befits.

Nationalism is about the men who have the loyalty and ability being given the means to rule justly, honestly and with an eye to the best ends of the families who are cells of the living national body.
Nationalists demand from these that they do their duty or be held to account,

as their failure is the failure of the nation. There is No magic formula Nationalist simply accept that flexibility is desirable.

Nationalism is not about divided loyalties with any outside party what so ever. The Nation and its institutions is the all in all for the nationalist.

There is NO honor in being disloyal to the Nation – government may have to be defied at times but the NATION is the ALL in all to all loyal son's of the Soil.

Nationalism therefore demands that any media, corporation, market, business or other groups or persons be loyal to the Nation or take themselves out of national domain. Nationalists have zero toleration for subversion of our traditional way of life by anyone be they carpetbaggers or scallywags.

Nationalism seeing that the education of the youth is the future takes a no-nonsense approach to education. The best for the Best, but some for everyone. For Primary Schooling: No feelings, all academic figures and traditional cultural exercises, meant to acclimate the student to their role and station in the family of families which is the nation. Nationalists desire to see less waste upon feelings and more over all learning of the technical mechanical theoretical sort coupled with a solid introduction to arts, literature and the rest which the more advanced can pursue in extra curricular pursuits and higher learning which again will be parceled out on Merit.

Nationalism is the Future
based solidly upon what worked in the Past.
Nationalists are perpetually finding new ways to use old formulas with lasting success in the day to day life of the Nation.

Nationalism Is The Western Future – the only belief system that values our future in and of itself by and for itself!

Nationalism is, in the end, Family working, to see Family, be well founded!

Relevance for the Nationalist Movement

– It comes by remaining outside the Corrupt Party System.

If the nationalist movement wishes to remain relevant, or even perhaps to become relevant, it must differentiate itself fully from the civic patriot parties, and from all liberal approved parties. It must part from them, while using their squabbles to the advantage of the nationalist worldview. It must most of all not make pact with either 'wing'. Nationalism must remain fixed upon replacing the ruling world view ie the materialist, atheist, deterministic ideals of the liberal/Marxist plutocrats and ruling elite, not upon 'winning' in the system they control.

It must be always remembered that the modern world is essentially liberal individualist and hedonist, none of this makes for a fit base upon which to build a stable national edifice.

Nationalism being Traditional, Tribal and Ethical, we nationalists simply have no reason to keep the liberal world order from falling. We in fact have every valid reason to see it topple. In the end between us nationalists and the liberal world, there can be no compromise – only one of us can remain – as any compromise only ensures the survival of the infection, this must go to the knife.

The reason is not far to seek: There is no actual ethno-nationalism, which is acceptable to the liberal worldview, just as conversely none of the liberal world, is acceptable to the true nationalist, since they negate each other. One is unique, particular and natural the other universal, pedestrian and artificial.

The conflict is absolute being based in fundamentally different world views: liberalism being based upon its false atomic individuals, and nationalism being based upon the cooperative family unit. One selfish and the other exalting the Common Good. The notion that liberty extends to the right of betraying the people for pennies is farcical, else Judas would be a saint. The atomic individual is a fantasy, no such person has existed in the order of things. And happiness has degenerated into hedonistic weakness, as it always was doomed to do.

The simple reason is that the modern world – liberal, Marxist, and otherwise – is based essentially on the idea that everyone is equal – this is false – and it creates chaos and disorder in its wake. There is no sound basis for asserting equality between any two living beings. There is no equality man to man, man to woman, man to child, woman to woman, woman to child, or any other equality at all. Equality simply does not exist, except as a verbal construction, which acts to destroy real authority.

Nationalism rejects this liberal poisoned cup.
Nationalism most especially rejects Internationalism and all kinds of Marxism including its poisoned offspring political correctness (political equality), egalitarianism (equality of outcomes), and feminism (gender equality), because they are antithetical to our traditions, ethics and tribal interests. Each of these death cult tenets are merely the liberal fantasy of 'equality' enforced under a 'tolerant' anti-Western paradigm, framed in liberal terms.

Political Correctness is a Congo Cannibal Cult in which the infirm of mind, who lack judgment, who are deficient in virtue, honor, and/or courage are given equal say and power over the common fate as the just, loyal, right, brilliant, and honest!

Egalitarianism is 'equality' applied to outcomes, social and economic. It is meant to ensure that the least capable, are made to feel to be 'equal' to the most capable by making Capacity itself some shameful condition. The best must be keep low, so that all can be equal to the lowest – and since we have cannibals among us this is very low indeed.

You see this ‘equality’ lie is also used to cover up the terrible little fact that the PC Boazian communists have it all wrong – Race is very real and racial differences matter on a continent wide scale.

Simply stated: while Whites can learn Black Culture and to some extent the reverse, not all groups can CREATE HIGH CULTURE like us Whites. ‘Racism’ is just natural success of the better stock in the given conditions – at least when it is attached to the adjective ‘institutional’ or ‘cultural’.

Western Man is simply more capable than the Congo Cannibals, and Marxists have invented the term 'racism' and 'oppression' to label us Whites as 'evil' for our natural successes over the cannibals.

Feminism, which is equality applied to gender, is nothing more than confusion. A chaotic force that has seen our birth rates plummet and our families destroyed as the mothers of the future quest after useless and base trinkets, revealing away the child bearing years to at best have one child after having many men – this is the way to death. There is No nicer or softer way to put it. 3 children per women with one man in a stable home is the only way to life. No other options exist. None.

Nationalism rejects all of this – in toto wishing to keep none of this rotten mess. Nationalist assert that Liberalism in toto is the mother of the modern death cult, called political correctness and for so long as liberalism lives, it will protect the death cult. Thus it must go.

Nationalism knows that historically liberalism birthed Marxism.

Marxism in any form is soul destroying being based itself upon the false individual and the materialist empirical values of liberalism it shares in the failure of liberalism – there is NO equality and thus both systems are equally in error on this point.

And thus since the cosmopolitan worldview of the internationalist traders – a murky and nebulous lot whose only real loyalty is to increased profits – the money bags who fund the current world order are at heart liberal and partake of all the errors of individualist liberalism, their point of view, cannot have any concrete point of contact with nationalism.

Nationalism being based upon the correct premise that family is the foundation of all folk, and it is upon the needs of the living members of this family, which all life affirming values are based. The values which one derives from the needs of this family are local and concrete having nothing in common with the abstract and universal assertions of the death cult. The the needs of this family can be summed up as housing, clothing, food, and the means to protect these. Thus nationalism deals in concrete realities not in abstract rhetorical generalities. And the number one concrete reality that needs hammered home is that Natural reality has rules.

The most simple of those rules are that –

- There is NO equality in nature only hierarchy.
- Nature is in fact predicated upon hierarchy.
- Nature has provided for patriarchy.

- Hierarchy and Patriarchy are the means to proper functional order.
- Order is necessary to our survival as civilized beings.

These facts do not evolve with time, nor are they subject to group votes, since they are material facts beyond the power of man to alter. The nationalist movement must relentlessly point out these natural facts remain as the only real baseline reality against which to judge the success of our efforts. There is nothing to gain by appeasing the liberal world order.

Why we do what we do

Hello folks, how are y'all doing today? Today folks we would like to talk about why we do what we do.

Since folks it can be quite a labor, which can consume quite a great amount of our spare time.

However we think the time well spent in so much as it helps to defend conserve and restore, our personal home hearth and heritage, and by extension our community's commonality of language, culture and purpose, and thus to rebuild the nation from root system to branch, since the family and community are the root from which we all spring, and whose vitality and health reflect and effect our own.

To come to Brass tacks, we do this, because we remember White rural small town America –did you think we were going to dance around it –and we want that small town community back out of the rubble that is multiculturalism, political correctness, diversity, tolerance, and enforced equality. We want White close knit Communities in which to live Life under our Laws in our Lands.

We are quite aware of what we are saying. We are very very lucid. We having been old enough to evaluate the relative value of small town rural White America, vs. Suburban/Urban multicultural America, have found the latter wanting, and find ourselves wanting the former.

Put more easily rural White America is greater than suburban multicultural America or urban diverse America. One is the Real America and the other a cheap retread.

We remember rural America, it was an endearing, peaceful, orderly and settled place. Oh to be sure there was a touch more generational impoverishment in that time than there is now, but everyone, was essentially working class, or lower middle class, and it put it nicely there was more community spirit so there was less need of welfare. On the whole 95% plus of these people regardless of class were hardworking, honest, good loyal, people who loved god, family and nation in that order, and around whom your person and property were 100% safe! These people in the main, respected the law, had proper respect for authority, and most of all were united around their common family and community identity, which identity acted as the foundation for their national identity, as White America, for White America with pride in White America.

Contrast this, to the wasteland that is modern suburban multicultural America, and diverse urban America –the differences are frankly, stark and startling, giving rise, to our honest observation that the crime filled, hovels where poverty is the rule, and where now life is violent, dirty, and retrograde, are in no way an improvement over the old rural orderly clean country town of old. Such 'people', and 'communities' which may, or may not, exist on paper under the aegis of the 2.0 America are simply not an improvement in any manner, over old White America's orderly and clean manner. They are not in any way a strength, nor enriching, being divided, and squalid, filled with chaos, and lacking anything like proper respect for authority and leadership.

This is because the 2.0 on paper multicultural America is merely a Whore house, a business proposition even, a nation in name only, lacking in anything like an identity, thus it has, no solid foundation, and it has predictably, become a ruin. This ruin is filling fast with the hordes of the third world, who contend for the rubble, rubble that once was our exclusive living space.

When is enough enough? When do we the remnant of the Western People here in America (really everywhere) finally simply, turn our posteriors upon this mess, and let it fall under its own weight? When do we put our backs to rebuilding for us by us and leave this wreckage to decay mold and rot? Without us this house of cards will topple. Why do we continue to hold it up, when the world is ours after it falls? Why continue to struggle to hold up the death cult which hates our life and wants us dead?

Truly, We know we cannot be the only person who has had the good luck to have been born into old rural White America, and to prefer it's quite peaceful honest way of life, to the barbarous savage violence of the multi culture. Truly we know that many that have made it this far want what we talk about even if only by second hand. We know we cannot be the only one.

We know we are not the only one, who honestly prefers the common bonds of identity based on families solidly in homes around hearths passing on heritages. Said families well established in a community within which they have the bond of a common culture and language, the binding ties of a shared history and the deep cut channels of a well established way of life. Strong communal bonds which frankly grew out of the biological commonality among the people --they were in fact expressions of our core tribal identity of our people-- this commonality gave comfort and a sense of one's place in a greater living breathing organic social order.

Multiculture provides none of this. Dead Lifeless Tombs is all it provides.

We know that we are not the only person who prefers the quality life of small rural town living, to political correctness, with its intolerable tolerance and empty slogans about barbarian foreign diversity being our strength. We know we are not the only person who utterly rejects the lie that tolerating barbarism will make us anything but victims of criminality.

We know that the enforced tolerance of the 'enriching' diversity is nothing else but the destruction of our biological identity, as our murderers force our replacements upon us using shaming words and legal decrees.

This destruction of our biological integrity is the final act, in the destruction of our community and cultural identity. We know we are not the only one that sees this fact and thinks: We must resist this as we have only this one Unique Identity. It is Ours. There is NO others who are Us. None.

To us our identity, community, and biological commonality, are things to be cherished and loved, since they give us a strong foundation, and provide us with our all in all – Family, Community, Nation. The multi culture provides only demands, death and destruction. The politically correct multiculturalism is a threat to our homes, families and our Nation.

For us there is no choice, we cling openly and with pride to those we love, and just as openly reject those who threatened the things we love. For who can choose death over life? Who willingly chooses to see those things he cherishes trampled into the dust by savage hordes of cannibals? Who?

Not me and not you, not any sane rational person.

Therefore our goal here is to reach those sane rational people who share a desire for restoring rural White America, and to build a critical mass until there is enough depth to our ranks that we can simply walk away from PC. We will simply self select for opting out of their Multicultural Plantation. We work here to free the minds so that the body can follow the mind's lead. Yes, in the end, the goal is to simply leave PC and its insane White guilt, colored oppression and never ending compensation schemes behind in the dust, since the salient fact in play folks is that White America does not need diversity – they exist on our labors not the other way around. We Whites are Our own all in all.

White America was strong and great, when we openly identified with our biological heritage, up as part of our cultural and community identity. When we had laws in place to keep and preserve our majority over our lands. When we had no shame in being the master of our own national destiny.

We know that we're not the only one who thinks and feels this way. But we also know that many are silenced by fear of losing their jobs, parental rights, visitations with children or even just so simple as their social status. We know and we try to be understanding of these fears. These fears that keep the masses silent in the face of ever greater outrages upon reason, good sense and common decency.

It is our sense that the politically correct multicultural tolerant diverse system depends upon our equal individual silence in the face of these continuing outrages.

It depends upon our accepting publicly it's insane proclamations: about diversity; about White guilt; about compensation for slavery; about the holy victims of hatred and aggression; and about all the other insane psychobabble which is the stock in trade of the media academic political class who act as the lance for the PC multicultural system.

The lie depends to put it simply upon our pretending the naked communist has cloths. It depends on our lying to ourselves and each other about politically correct multicultural psychobabble, which in truth many, if not most of us reject and despise.

The first step in overcoming this web of lies, is to openly state that White America, the object of the PC cult's hatred, was, is, and, always will be, better in every way, than their 2.0 multicultural diverse America.

Overcoming their lies depends upon us being able to say that only a panda bear homosexual eunuch, would tolerate being enriched by barbarian diversity as it kills our people, our communities, and our unique national identity. The Rest of us Real Western Men, Want White America back.

This in short folks is why we do what we do. The basic goal here is to keep our home, hearth, and heritage, while protecting our family, community, and nation. We intend to outlive the current system, and to rebuild from the ruins if need be.

Why we do what we do? It is as easy as 'Rural Small Town Living'. That is why we do what we do.

What is the Alt-Right about?

Alt-right is a revolt against economic determinism, individualism and modernity. It promotes the common good over selfish interests with pride. It promotes the tribe, nation and organic whole over the parts which comprise that whole. And it promotes traditional family and social values including opposition to all degeneracy that decreases births. Alt-right places Duty and Honor over Liberty and Freedom as there is NO true freedom that does not involve doing ones DUTY to the FOLK who give one LIFE. That is what Alt-right is about ... and much much more. By showing an interest in the topic you have taken the first step in freeing your mind from the prison house that is Modern PC Multiculture.

Good for you. Glad to have ya. For more information

Why are you 'racist' -- or How dare you defend Whites from PC Multiculture!

Why are you a 'racist' (evil White People)?

First things first: Let's untangle this mess of verbal ambush.

'Racist' is itself a made up word solely intended to force WHITES to comply with communist's demands on race -- just like sexist and other terms are meant to gain compliance from us on other topics.

It is the commie equivalent of Pooh Pooh Head. It has but one purpose and that is to Shame us into accepting Tolerance, Equality and Multiculturalism inside the framework of liberal PC thinking as the ONLY viable rational world view.

All of this is insane since 'equality' and the rest utterly ignore reality and are frankly planks in the Religion of This Year in Humanity -- which itself is a bullshit concept since there is NO 'one humanity'. Science you say? They lie to keep their funding being nutless eunuchs.

Thus the question could more accurately be phrased: Why O' free White men are you against being controlled by commies who have harm for you in their mind? Yes why indeed do we reject being Judas Goated to the place of slaughter. O Why indeed?

The Atomic Society

The Atomic Society – each little atom stuck face first into a phone texting life away while they could be with others living and having a good day – Tragedy in Action.

We live in a society in which everyone is isolated from each other by a variety of means which should in theory bring them together such as phones, internet and the like. These technologies had the potential to revolutionize the world and what they have done is kill most human social interaction in the First World nations who have most deeply embrace these technologies and the (selfish) liberal world order which itself is the prime mover of this atomic isolation as it promotes the lie that we are all complete little happiness bubbles unto ourselves, needing no one else.

The problem is caused by liberalism's selfish world view and the technologies we have coupled. The predictable result is that selfish people have by and large substitute real contact and actual discourse with texts, posts and comments. It is a product of the decayed thinking that produced materialist 'happiness' in the first instance in which 'happiness' is immediate feel good happiness and no other thing at all. That NOT walking to see another is a happiness because being lazy is best ... this is the exact thinking behind most 'modern conveniences' that being lazy(doen less) is better. Look at all the fat sad lazy unhappy isolated people and tell Us with a straight face We are wrong.

You see once before all these ways to hide, avoid and otherwise not be with others, people had to actually get up, go to the place the other person was at, and care enough to want to see and talk to them about xyz.

It required effort and time. People planned them out and meant to have real contacts with those about them. In short time with others had meaning beyond mere utility and gain.

Now, all this is lost in the haste of needing to chase the newest junk about WallWorlds Shelves and in trying to 'connect' with TV characters who would not spit upon us in real life, while neglecting people who are alive and willing to be part of our existences.

It started with the phone which just turned into a way to NOT have to visit and socialize with others. Then the phone was used as a way to milk others of money. Now nobody visits anyone, or really calls each other much except for brass tack reasons.

It has progressed to the point that most folks can't be bothered to talk with real living people at all, even on the phone. It is getting to the point that many if not most, preferring to text nonsense to others who are themselves isolated and typing 'lol' type nonsense to others who are ... and the wheel of this stupidity rolls forward. (Yes STUPIDITY, since such low information 'communications' is hardly worthy of pack mammals much less men.)

The net result is we live in a society in which people have little to no real contact with other people and have substituted 'lol' 'Kk' and other gibberish for real meaningful contact.

This is highly unnatural. It is highly distant and in fact works against any strong bonds of affection building up between the parties involved. When people do not really talk they do not really bond at any meaningful level –social contact is necessary for real relationships to exist.

Thus slowly but surely this atomization is dissolving the bonds that bind our people together at an interpersonal level. Even those who will read this on line will still be ‘one plane removed’ from the author and thus are atomized him and them. One to the others. Others to one.

This is the common fate under this world order and its false values, and for so long as people all beeps, bells and whistles to substitute for song, cheer and time with others.

How to get there?

Seems simple over all –

Put down your phones. Step off the internet.

That is the only way back to something like a real society with bonded people who live lives that have some meaning greater than consuming garbage products from trashy stores.

The only way back to a social order that is not degraded by crime, squalor and poverty.

It is just that simple – Time to stop type type typing and start, fix, fix, fixing the social order about you.
